

URGENT MINERS TO PARLEY

VITAL ISSUES TOMORROW TO FACE VOTERS

Convention Makeup, Bonds, City Plans Up at Polls.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Tomorrow's election will be one of the most vital and important of the year for the citizens of Chicago and the state. Men and women will participate on equal terms in the vote on all of the propositions that are offered to the electorate for decision. Women, however, are not permitted to vote for constitutional amendment delegates or for the two judicial vacancies in Cook county.

Despite the tremendous possibilities involved in tomorrow's balloting, only a small interest has been developed in the brief campaign. Not until Saturday, when partisan and factional rivalries bubbled to the top, was there anything resembling real interest. The total Chicago vote is estimated at 270,000 out of a registered total of 700,000.

THE ISSUES OF THE DAY.

Here are the matters that confront tomorrow's voters:

Constitutional Convention.—Election of delegates in the entire state to a constitutional convention to be held in Illinois in fifty years. The convention assembles in Springfield on Jan. 6, and is authorized to amend an entirely new constitution to be drafted.

Cook County Judges.—One Superior Court judge to be elected for the year ending Jan. 1, and one Circuit Court judge to be elected for the year ending Jan. 1. In the Galena district a Circuit judge is to be elected.

Chicago Plan Bonds.—Under the act of the legislature it is proposed to issue $25,000,000 in bonds to widen and improve Western avenue, Ogden street, South Water street, Robey street, and Ashland avenue, and to complete the Michigan avenue boulevard link. This question is conceded to be the most comprehensive constructive proposition Chicago voters have been called upon to approve.

$5,000,000 for Good Roads.

Cook County Bonds.—All of the voters in Cook county are called upon to approve a bond issue of $5,000,000 for the extensive good road construction program that practically completed the construction of main line good roads in Cook county. A county bond issue of $5,000,000 for the construction of a detention home for juvenile offenders also is up for decision.

Chicago City Government.—Men and women voters of Chicago vote directly on the acceptance or defeat of the reapportionment act and of the city charter, passed by the last legislature. The first wipes out party lines in nominations for municipal officers. The second makes the number of wards fifty instead of thirty-five, with one alderman from each ward instead of two. Inside this law is a secondary question of length of aldermanic terms, two years or four years. If the fifty ward bill is adopted the vote taken on the two or four year term will govern the length of terms of aldermen in the future.

What I. and R. Mean.

Initiative and Referendum.—Three questions of "public policy" questions appear upon the ballot through the efforts of the Hearst interests in Chicago. These propose to "instruct" delegates to stand in the convention for a referendum on a petition of 100,000 names; for a referendum on a petition of 10,000 names; for a referendum on a petition of 1,000 names; and for municipal ownership and control of all public utilities, from street cars to stock yards, coal mines and telephone systems. They also would "instruct" delegates to stand for an amendment to the present state constitution by means of which the constitution may be amended upon direct petition of 100,000 voters without legislative action.

Delegates to Be Chosen.

Under the old constitution delegates to the forthcoming convention had to be nominated by party primaries under nomination designations.

This has produced a field of Republican and Democratic nominees in each of the fifty-one districts of the state, most of which are in Cook county. The Socialist party has nominees

Machine Guns Used to Quell Egyptian Riot

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Cairo says the rioters at Alexandria were dispersed by the use of machine guns and that there were many casualties.

Mobs Riot in Cairo.

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 31.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed.—There was further rioting and looting in Alexandria today. A mob unhindered plundered various houses for an hour and escaped with the booty.

A number of the leading citizens of Alexandria had prevailed on the governor to withdraw the police and troops, undertaking that there would be neither demonstrations nor disorder.

Nevertheless a procession of striking cartmen, accompanied by several thousand natives, marched at noon to the European quarter, uttering nationalist cries.

Plunder for an Hour.

There was no disorder until suddenly an army ambulance dashed into the procession, killing one person and injuring five. Thereupon the demonstrators broke loose and plundered unhindered for an hour. Eventually order was restored by the citizens who had guaranteed peace appealing to the mob. The troops and police did not interfere.

There were disorders in other parts of the town which were accompanied by shooting.

LATEST OF MANY TROUBLES.

The disturbances in Egypt have been more or less continuous since the start of the war in Europe. Many of the Bedouin tribes have engaged in local uprisings. Reports to the British government said that most of the trouble was due to agents of the Germans.

During the earlier part of the war, the disturbances were mostly among the Bedouins in the upper Nile region. Later the lower reaches of the river were affected and even Cairo was the scene of disorders.

Many Sentenced to Die.

During March and April of the present year there was a serious outbreak. The casualties among the natives, it was officially announced in London, were about 1,000. Death sentences were imposed on twenty-nine natives, twenty-five of whom were sent to prison for life, and more than 2,000 were sentenced to shorter terms, according to the official report to the British house of commons by Gen. E. H. Allenby, the commander in chief in Egypt.

PERSHING'S AUTO PILOT SLAIN; HOLD 4 MEN, 4 WOMEN

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 2.—Four men and four women, one of the men in a major's uniform, are held tonight charged with murder at Las Cruces, N. M., forty-five miles north of here, in connection with the death of John T. Hutchings of Alamogordo, N. M., shot and fatally wounded at 8 a. m. today while piloting an automobile in the El Paso to Phoenix cross country race near Lanark, N. M.

Hutchings was shot in the back. Oliver Lee, Hutchings' mechanic, said he heard six shots. He took the wounded driver to Lanark, borrowed a rifle and returned to the scene with Winchester Cooley and District Judge Howe. They arrested the four men and four women, who were in an automobile. Hutchings was chauffeur for Gen. Pershing during the punitive expedition into Mexico.

Warrants charging murder were issued against Maj. F. M. Scanlan, Harry G. Overstreet, and "Chalk" Altman of El Paso, and Fred Jackson of Alpine, Texas. The women are Billie Bennett, Mrs. Overstreet, Mrs. P. L. Holbrook, and E. M. McPherson of El Paso.

"It was an accident," said Maj. Scanlan. "We were target shooting."

DE LUXE TROUPE OF HIGHWAYMEN ALL CONVICTED

Verdict After 17 Hours Shows What One Cop Can Do.

"This Gloriana gang," said First Deputy John H. Alcock to Detective John Quinn of the homicide squad, "is the most dangerous band that ever infected Chicago. I want you to see that each and every one of that gang is convicted. Spare no expense, no effort, no time. Don't eat if eating means they will escape. Don't sleep if you think they will get away."

Quinn made reply in this fashion: "I will do my best. I will convict each and every one of them."

He went out of the first deputy's office, and from that moment until yesterday he ate little, slept little, worked unceasingly—and here is the story:

To start at the finish, let us relate the fact that yesterday morning a jury that had wrangled seventeen hours marched wearily into Judge Pam's court and announced they had found Gloriana and eight of his followers guilty of the robbery of the saloon of Fred A. Both, 1200 Larrabee street, on the morning of June 3.

Then let us tell something about this gang, and about the arrest, and of Detective John Quinn's methods of getting the conviction—one of the most peculiar and dramatic stories to be read in the open books of the police department—and one of the most important exploits a plain Chicago policeman ever performed.

Personnel of the Gang.

The Gloriana gang got its name from its leader, or "captain," Charles Gloriana, 24 years old, 1101 Townsend street. It was composed of two squads. Gloriana took charge of the first, which "worked" the district between Oak street and the river.

Carlo Moretti, 1139 Orleans street, was "lieutenant" in charge of the second band, which operated north of Oak street most of the time, and sometimes cooperated with the other squad.

Members of Gang.

The names of the entire gang, besides Gloriana, the leader, are: Carlo Pettela, Victor Rizzi, 1155 Larrabee street. Frank Giordello, 900 Milton avenue. Michael O'Malley, 50 West Locust street. Dominick Nuccio, 1103 Cambridge avenue. Jack Calli. Carl Moretti. Joseph Green, 223 West Thirty-first street.

In six weeks Green, in the confession he made, as detailed further in the story, said he had got $1,500, his share of the profits. This indicates the gang got $15,000 in that time.

The de luxe troupe of highwaymen were mostly Italians, though there were two who were not—Mickey O'Malley and Joseph Green. They posed as peddlers during the day; and yet each had been sent to Pontiac or the bridewell time and again.

Got Witnesses by Fear.

They hired the cleverest lawyers, they produced the best witnesses, it is said, bought with the fear of vengeance. Often the police had to drop felonies against them and be content with sending them to the bridewell for a few months. O'Malley was sentenced twenty times.

They had the reputation of "killers." They were of a high intelligence. They were tricky and resourceful. And they had money.

In April and May twenty-six liquor houses, wholesale and retail, in the Chicago avenue police district were robbed. Doors were broken in, safes cracked, barrels of beer and kegs of whiskey, and cases of wine stolen. The loot amounted into the thousands. There was no trace of the thieves.

Robberies in Early Morning.

It was noted that the robberies never occurred until after 3 o'clock. At that hour the detectives were accustomed to quit work and another shift—the midnight one—was left alone in the district—a handful of men.

Quinn was made senior detective sergeant on April 29 and he and his men took the midnight shift. On June 3, at 4:30 o'clock, the patrol wagon went hurrying to Larrabee and Vedder streets.

There were three policemen in the

THE CHANGING WORLD

The stock market used to be so nervous it became panicky at the slightest provocation. But now it has become so hardened to disturbing features that nothing less than a cosmic upheaval can stampede it.

A few years ago the farmer was a poor, overworked, luckless person whose worldly possessions were swayed-backed under mortgages. But now the farmer is the real producer and the only mortgages he has on the farm are the ones he holds on other property.

A few years ago the sum of $2,500 a year was the goal toward which many hard working people struggled through long years of thrift and self-denial. But now that they have reached the goal, they find that the present purchasing power of the dollar has so shrunk that they must work toward a new goal before they can quit working.

ITALIAN LEAVES FUND TO HONOR VIRTUOUS GIRLS

New York, Nov. 2.—Upon the mayor of Providence, R. I., will rest a heavy burden when the will of Count Paul Bajnotti of Turin, who died last March many times a millionaire, is filed for probate here tomorrow by State Senator Salvatore A. Cottito, attorney in this country for the royal Italian government. For the mayor, according to Senator Cottito, is the judge who will have to select annually "a daughter of the common people" who, by her conduct and family virtues, "best deserves interest on a $10,000 fund left for such lucky maids."

In the will of Count Bajnotti, who during the course of his diplomatic career in this country met and married Miss Carrie M. Brown, whose family founded Brown University, is found the provision for this endowment to the city of Providence.

A similar bequest for $5,000 is left to the city of Turin, Italy.

The count provided that the Providence fund should be known as the "Carrie Brown Rosiere fund" and the winner "Rosiere."

"I suggest that the prize be given with some solemnity; that the winner be crowned with roses and be called 'Rosiere,' and that the prize be designated as a prize to virtue," said the count in his will.

Boy Shoots Chum, Then Hides Body

A bit of target practice in the back yard of Mrs. Dorothy Plock's home in Elmhurst brought death at the hands of a chum to Raymond Smith, 15 years old. His slayer then hid the body in the weeds and it was not discovered for many hours.

Henry Plock, 17, had bought a .45 caliber Colt automatic from a mail order agency, according to the story told, and had gone with Raymond to try it out. During the firing Henry accidentally shot his companion.

Hides Body in Weeds.

He started toward the Smith home to tell Raymond's father; then he became frightened and turned back. Returning home, he hid the dead boy in the weeds and went into the house. Dinner time came in the Smith household, but no Raymond. Mr. Smith became worried and walked to the Plock home to inquire for his son.

Leads Way to Victim.

After further quizzing he said Raymond had been shooting with his revolver and had accidentally killed himself. Followed by Mr. Smith, he led the way to the weeds and pointed out the body. The shooting took place Saturday afternoon. It was not until midnight that the body was found.

Later Henry Testified Raymond had

Run in front of him just as he was firing. The inquest has been continued pending an investigation of how Henry purchased the firearm.

Lewis Due to Go East for Conference

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, will reach here from Springfield tomorrow and, after a brief stay, it is expected he will go to Washington for a conference with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Warren Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, on their plan for a commission of five men to arbitrate the mine strike.

One rumor said Mr. Lewis had tarried in Springfield until he could proceed via Indianapolis to the Washington conference assured that the strike was entirely effective.

Counsel for Miners Confer.

Henry Warrum, chief counsel for the miners, held an extended conference today with A. W. Kerr, representing the mine workers of Illinois, and H. Henderson, an attorney of Terre Haute, as to what lines the mine workers' organization should pursue in attacking the constitutionality of Judge Anderson's order.

It is unlikely, however, that the attorneys will act until the hearing on the government's application for a temporary injunction to take the place of the present restraining order comes up before Judge Anderson next Saturday.

Lewis Is "Noncommittal."

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 2.—Responding to questions as to whether Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, had suggested a plan for settlement of the strike of soft coal miners, John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared tonight he was "noncommittal."

Questions put to Mr. Lewis were prompted by persistent rumors in miners' circles here that President Gompers had intervened in the strike, or at least offered his good offices.

"In the language of the Mexicans, 'quien sabe?'" Lewis said, being interpreted, who knows?

Pressed for a direct answer, Acting President Lewis would only say, "I am noncommittal."

Mr. Lewis said he planned to return to Indianapolis at 6:40 o'clock tomorrow morning.

LABOR VIOLATES U. S. INJUNCTION, SPEAKER AVERS

Pennsylvania A. F. of L. Votes "Go Limit" to Win "Freedom."

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 2.—A resolution recommending a state-wide strike of organized labor as a last resort in the union's fight for "free speech, free press, and free assembly," was adopted by the special convention of the Pennsylvania federation of labor in session today. Following the vote on the resolution, it was announced that only two of the 506 delegates had cast negative ballots.

Impeachment Is Urged.

Gov. William C. Sproul was asked to call a special session of the legislature to act as an impeachment tribunal against public officials who are accused by the union of violating their oaths of office.

Other resolutions passed urged that the railroad men, miners, and steel workers pool their forces and refuse to make any settlements that do not include the three unions, pledging financial and moral aid to the mine strikers; demanded amnesty for persons imprisoned under the espionage act, and urged the repeal of the law, and opened the Cummins anti-strike legislation.

Cites Violation of Writ.

When the subject of extending moral and financial support to striking coal miners was brought up, Francis Feehan, supervising inspector of the Pittsburgh district of the state department of labor and industry, voiced his opposition to it.

Speaking as an individual and not as a delegate, Mr. Feehan declared that endorsement of the proposal by the convention would be action against the government.

"This resolution is a violation of the federal court injunction against the coal strike and commits this body to violation of the restraining order issued against the strike," he said.

The convention, prior to adjournment, extended its moral and financial support to striking coal miners.

GOMPERS AND STONE BELIEVE LEWIS WILL ACT

Start Plan for Board to End Wage Warfare.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Further efforts by labor leaders to effect a settlement of the coal miners' strike by arbitration, before the hearing on the permanent injunction sought by the government, were put forth today.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and Warren Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, are endeavoring to bring John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, into conference with Secretary of Labor Wilson, which involves a plan of arbitration of the mine dispute by a commission of five members appointed by President Wilson.

After long distance telephone talks with Lewis yesterday both Mr. Gompers and Mr. Stone were confident that the miners' leader would come to Washington.

Urges Truce All Around.

In line with these efforts to bring about arbitration the advisory board of the engineers came forward today with a proposal for setting, not only the mine strike, but other industrial conflicts.

Condemning government by injunction as likely to "make conditions worse and defer, if not defeat, a peaceful settlement," asserting that industrial warfare and the high cost of living have produced "the most serious crisis in the history of our country," but contending that "there is no industrial dispute or misunderstanding that cannot be adjusted upon a basis of justice and right," the advisory board, in a statement, proposed the creation of a national industrial commission to bring about peace between capital and labor.

Blow at Dealers.

At the same time Attorney General Palmer reiterated that the injunction was sought "solely in the general public interest" when he made public correspondence with the Wholesale Coal Trade association, which protested against maximum price and priority distribution regulations affecting coal during the strike.

The attorney general rebuked the dealers as "would-be profiteers," and said he would proceed against any conspiracy of employers as quickly as he has against the miners.

The peace appeal of the brotherhood was prepared last night following Mr. Stone's long telephone talk with Lewis, in which the engineers' leader urged acceptance of President Wilson's offer to appoint a commission to settle the differences between the miners and the operators.

Ask "Collective Bargaining."

The members of the advisory board were unanimously of the opinion that an industrial commission should start with a recognition of the right of "collective bargaining," which would be tantamount to a recognition of trade unionism. The board's public statement follows:

"In view of the conditions facing our country at this time, which is our judgment is far more serious than during the late war, in as much as it affects all classes of the people, and in consideration of the situation, the advisory board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, assembled at Washington and formulated the appended declaration of principles.

Cite Peril Confronting Nation.

"The industrial conditions now confronting the nation, with capital and labor occupying a militant attitude toward each other while the whole country is suffering from the high cost of living caused by hoarding and profiteering, resulting in general discontent which tends to lower production, has brought about the most serious crisis in the history of our country.

"We believe that there is no industrial dispute or misunderstanding that cannot be adjusted upon a basis of justice and right, and we further believe that in seeking justice, justice should be practiced by all concerned.

Ask Impartial Hearing.

"We believe in the laws and institutions of our country, which guarantee that all the people shall have equal opportunity and a fair and impartial hearing before being condemned. We deplore the action of the federal government in its present attempt at government by injunction, believing such action will only tend to make conditions worse and defer, if not defeat, a peaceful settlement.

"The advisory board has full assurance that we express the unanimous sentiment of the 550,000 members of our organization that the principle of collective bargaining is of vital importance to them and cannot be construed as harmful to any interest which deserves to be just and fair.

"As a remedy for the present turbulent conditions we suggest that immediate steps be taken to assemble at Washington an industrial commission that will recognize the rights of all citizens and is not pledged to oppose collective bargaining, as this is a time for deliberate action, on the part of all concerned, in a peaceful solution of the present conditions.

Labor's Support Pledged.
"We pledge the support of our organization to the government in every just and reasonable effort toward stabilizing industrial conditions, to the end that normal conditions be restored.

Labor leaders have well defined fears of the dangers of the government demonstrating that a great strike can be broken by injunction. If the plan succeeds in the mine strike, it might succeed in a railroad strike.

Organized labor obtained a limitation of the use of injunctions in the Clayton act, but that related to injunctions sought by employers, and not to injunctions sought by the government for the protection of the public interest.

Hits at Coal Dealers.
Attorney General Palmer's threat to proceed against a conspiracy of the operators was elicited by a letter he received from W. A. Marshall, president of the Wholesale Coal Trade association, stating that the "fixing of a maximum price will discourage the operators in their efforts to produce coal," that "the law of supply and demand will take care of distribution better than any theoretical program," that the "putting into effect of priority lists will result in unnecessarily overstocking some consumers and allowing others to go without," and that "we recommend consumers of coal be allowed to procure the same through the usual, normal channels, without interference from government departments or the railroad administration."

Here's Palmer's Reply.
The attorney general in his reply said:

"Your proposition amounts, in effect, to a declaration that coal dealers should be permitted to take advantage of these abnormal conditions and have their prices based entirely upon the law of supply and demand, which is only another way of saying that they should be permitted to charge the public whatever they please.

"The demand for fuel will be constantly increasing and while the supply is decreasing, unless there is government regulation, prices charged to the public will be outrageous and the profits accruing to dealers unconscionable. You ought to be quite as willing as other citizens to cooperate in the general public welfare in this emergency even to the extent of sacrificing profits.

Will Curb 'Profiteers.'
"The action of the government in restraining the officers of the mine workers' union from furthering the strike order already issued, was taken solely in the general public interest, and I shall not permit it to be used directly or indirectly for the benefit of the employers' side of the controversy.

"If advantage shall be taken of present conditions by any arrangement or agreement of two or more persons to restrict either production or distribution in order to enhance the price of fuel I shall without hesitation take precisely the same action against such persons as has been taken against the officers of the mine workers' union.

HUNDREDS ARE ENDANGERED BY EXPLOSION

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—The lives of a hundred inmates of St. Mary's convent and St. Mary's academy at St. Francis were endangered tonight when a boiler exploded, completely wrecking the boiler house and damaging the surrounding buildings and causing a loss of about $25,000.

The boiler, weighing several tons, fell within a few feet of the convent, and other debris was scattered over a distance of 500 feet.

The cause of the explosion is unknown.

RIVALS TO TEST REAL STRENGTH AT PITS TODAY

Will Prove the Power of Mine Union, Both Sides Admit.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A real test of strength in the great strike of soft coal miners which already has made idle more than 425,000 men, according to union leaders' claims, is expected by both operators and miners to develop this morning when the mine workers sound the call to work.

Although the strike went into effect at midnight Friday, both sides have agreed that today the first full work day for miners throughout the country since the strike edict went into force, would prove power or lack of it on the part of the United Mine Workers of America to stop production of bituminous coal in the general sense.

Will See Power of U. S.
Today also will put to the test, in part at least, the power of the United States government as expressed through the injunction issued Friday by Federal Judge Anderson at Indianapolis restraining union officials from issuing further strike orders or encouraging the miners to join in the strike.

Union chiefs gave immediate obedience to the government order, but their men in most instances left the mines Friday, carrying their tools, and refrained Saturday from returning to work.

More Than 400,000 Out.
Union leaders began compiling their claims of men on strike Friday when men began quitting work, and when the total was placed at more than 400,000 Saturday they declared the strike was virtually 100 per cent effective.

Coal operators did not wholly concede the union men's claims and, in most cases, said the full effect of the strike would not be known until today. This they based on the fact that Saturday was practically a holiday to miners in many regions and was a religious holiday among some nationalities.

Nonunion Fields Normal.
In addition, the operators pointed to practically normal production in the nonunion mine fields of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, there being about 150,000 nonunion miners, broadly speaking, in those states. About 50 per cent of Kentucky's 40,000 union miners also were at work Saturday under contracts.

The full effect of the government's action, including the rehabilitation of the fuel administration and the seizure of coal in transit by the railroads for redistribution by regional committees, has not been indicated.

The war department on Saturday ordered the O'Gara mine, near Springfield, Ill., which supplies Camp Grant at Rockford, Ill., with coal, to continue operation. The company was unable to comply, as the miners remained away from the mine.

Will Work If Can Get Men.
Coal operators in many regions have expressed themselves as ready to operate, if possible, under government orders and protection. Union leaders generally have asserted not even the government could compel the miners to work and that the men would obey the strike order.

The miners' leaders confidently claimed that men could not be found to fill the places of skilled mine workers and that in many states laws require men of experience who have been examined and licensed to man the mines.

Troops to the Mines.
One company of the 52d infantry, armed with machine guns, left Camp Kearny, Cal., for the Utah coal fields, yesterday, and other troops are ready to leave on short notice. Two companies of coast artillery at San Francisco have been ordered ready for movement.

Oklahoma has mobilized its national guards troops which are being distributed throughout the coal districts. A detachment of federal cavalry from Fort D. A. Russell reached Rock Springs, Wyo., and began patrolling the coal fields.

The first squadron of the Eighth cavalry left El Paso, Tex., yesterday, for Gallup, N. M., for duty in connection with the strike.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—While efforts were continued by labor leaders to bring Acting President Lewis of the mine workers into a conference here to settle the mine strike by arbitration, Warren S. Stone and other members of the railway engineers' advisory board put forth a proposal to bring about peace between capital and labor through an industrial commission.

SENATOR HITCHCOCK said that he expected to confer with President Wilson this week on the plans to prevent qualification of the resolution ratifying the league of nations covenant supported by a majority of the senate. He thought the treaty might be disposed of about the middle of the month.

RETRACTION by Admiral Sims of his statements in a recent magazine article that the Sinn Feiners were openly pro-German and bitterly hostile to American sailors is demanded in a letter addressed to Secretary of the Navy Daniels by the Irish national bureau, which claims that the admiral's charges are unfounded and "an insult to millions of Americans who are solidly behind the Irish republic."

THE commerce department, reviewing a century of immigration, finds that as many Irish have come to this country in 100 years as there now are Irish in Ireland.

VILLA is reported ready for his long heralded big drive on Carranza. He is said to hold the balance of power between Obregon and Gonzales, candidates for the presidency, each of whom has sought Villa's support. Warning that in a final fight between Obregon and Gonzales Villa might easily take Mexico City, Luis Cabrera is urging the indefinite retention of Carranza in the presidency.

MOTHER, HELD IN ASYLUM, CLASPS LUIKART SISTERS

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Sherley and Edna Luikart were taken Saturday morning by their father to the Ionia, Mich., sanitarium, to which a commission recently committed Mrs. Luikart.

Roy Luikart sat silent. "They are quite well, aren't they, Roy?" she asked.

"The doctor says so," he said. Last night, Luikart disclaimed any purpose of reestablishing the former domestic relation. He announced, however, an effort would be made to obtain the release of Mrs. Luikart.

The father has arranged to have the children admitted to the German Protestant Orphan's Home. The length of their stay there, he said, is problematical.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Arthur H. Hahn & Co. have sold to a collector, name withheld, 270 etchings and 133 lithographs by Whistler for more than $300,000. It is neither denied nor admitted that they obtained the collection from Henry Harper Benedict.

It is now admitted that the collector who acquired the Whistler collection last February, through the same company, was H. H. Whittemore of Naugatuck, Conn., who paid between $300,000 and $500,000.

So, in two transactions alone, prints and lithographs by Whistler have changed hands for upward of $750,000 within a year. The artist at 24 sold the "French set" for 50 francs in Paris. His "Portrait of Lady Maud" and "The Harmony in Pink and Gray" painted in 1880, was bought by the Mdsrs. Duveen last January for some $200,000.

CHICAGO LABOR KILLS MOVE FOR GENERAL STRIKE

Declines Even to Hear Resolution in Aid of Steel Men.

An attempt to introduce a resolution calling for a general strike of union workers in aid of the remaining steel strikers was squelched at the meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday.

When Barney Kortas, a delegate from Local No. 478 of the Machinists' union, took the floor to introduce it, President Fitzpatrick ruled him out of order.

"We have a rule that no resolutions can be introduced after 2 o'clock, and you are out of order," said Fitzpatrick. "There is no possibility that anything will come from such a move, for not even the American Federation of Labor could call a strike of all workers. That is up to the international unions."

Refuses to Hear of Move.
Kortas had also risen to protest against taking up collections to aid the strikers.

"What we wish is to give them the best support possible, and that can be done by calling everybody out on a strike," he said. "I have here a resolution calling for the general strike."

He started to read it, but President Fitzpatrick again ruled he was out of order, and added:

"The press is present, and everybody has to be careful of what is said. We do not fear enemies, but our own men, who do not know the situation and propose something that cannot be done."

The committee in charge of the strike has discussed every angle of this matter, but I cannot tell you what our plans are now. But there is no use for the brother to introduce the resolution."

Kortas then protested that at the Chicago and Northwestern shops, where he works, engines used around the steel mills were being repaired.

Reads 'Wire to Steel Barons.'
Delegate Diehl then took the floor to read a "confidential telegram sent by J. P. Morgan to the steel barons."

"Settle that strike at once, for the men are not Bolsheviks," he read.

Demands were made at the meeting that the Junior Association of Commerce be ousted from high schools. President Fitzpatrick assailed H. H. Merrick, president of the Association of Commerce, for his alleged advocacy of a "trait 'em rough" policy toward strikers.

"What about young Teddy Roosevelt?"

It Took Courage to Wear the First Spectacles

"Pietro Buonaparte, Podente of Padua, ambassador at the Austrian Court in 1319, created a great sensation at the marriage of the Grand Duke's sister by appearing with a pair of spectacles upon his nose," says an old chronicle.

No doubt he would create an equal sensation today with the same pair upon his nose.

The appearance of eyeglasses has undergone as great a change since then as the science of making them.

U. S. COAL STRIKE ENDANGERS ITALY AND SCANDINAVIA

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The American coal strike is expected in well informed circles here to have a greater direct effect in Italy and Scandinavia than in England.

British steamships can fill their bunkers before sailing for the round trip across the Atlantic.

Coal importation is vital to the industry of Italy. It was emphasized at the coal controller's office to this Chicago Tribune correspondent today, and the Italian Bolsheviks are likely to seize any opportunity afforded by economic difficulties to cause trouble.

veit, who always says "trait 'em rough?" asked a delegate.

Roosevelt Is Assailed.
Fitzpatrick answered. "When he declared for the open shop policy he brought more misery and hopelessness into the lives of the laboring people than the Kaiser or the czar ever thought of."

He was cheered.

Charges were made that at the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium some patients were being compelled to work until they had to be carried to bed, while others are shown special favors.

It was declared the former were paid $15 a month, against $50 or $60, the regular attendants' pay.

NO BIAS WILL BE SHOWN MEN WHO RETURN TO WORK

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 2.—Striking coal miners who return to work tomorrow will be treated as if they never had walked out, Thomas T. Brewster, chairman of the coal operators' scale committee, asserted tonight.

After being apprised of the suggestion of the advisory board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers that an industrial commission be named to deal with the present industrial unrest, Mr. Brewster said any action taken on the matter by the government would receive the hearty cooperation of the operators.

He reiterated the operators would resume negotiations with the miners as soon as the latter agreed to submit disputes to arbitration and continue coal production pending the award of the arbitration board. He asserted the operators did not contemplate meeting in the near future to discuss the situation.

CHILLY CITIZENS STORM COAL MEN IN THEIR HOMES

Pleas for a Few Tons Echo Vainly in Vacant Yards.

Retail coal dealers early yesterday began taking their residences telephonic of the hooks to get away from pleas to "ship us a few tons" just for friendship's sake.

The fuel administration rested after some informal meetings at which plans were discussed for getting into the harness today.

George W. Reed, vice president of the Peabody Coal company, was added to the regional coal administration board, of which Regional Director of Railroads H. H. Ashton has named T. W. Proctor head.

Retailers to Meet.
Hinton G. Claiborne, chairman of the fair coal price committee, called a meeting of the retail dealers of the city for 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Hotel La Salle. At the meeting the dealers will be informed what they may charge for coal without getting into trouble.

But there was no noticeable increase in Chicago's coal pile, and no indication that any of the coal taken over by the fuel administration would go to the dealers who supply homes.

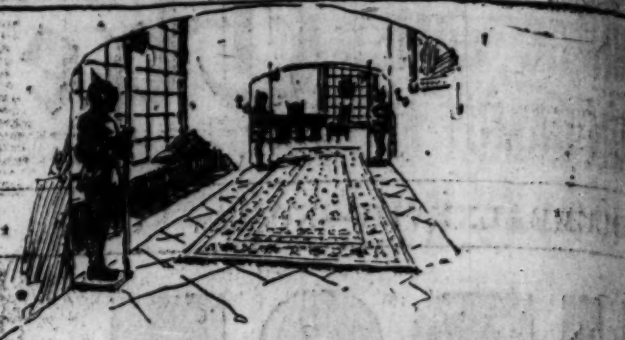

United States District Attorney Charles F. Clynne received instructions from the attorney general at Washington to keep a sharp lookout on the coal situation in Chicago with a view to punishing any attempts at profiteering.

"I shall take this matter up the first thing in the morning with Maj. Sprague of the fair price board," he said. "Until I talk with him I don't know just what steps will be taken, but our men will watch the situation closely."

Small Supply in Yards.
A canvass of the dealers disclosed that the yards supplies of the smaller dealers vary from five days to about two weeks. The larger concerns, such as the Consumers', are "in pretty good shape," an officer of one of them stated.

Three Explosions Wreck Homes of Steel Workers

New Kensington, Pa., Nov. 2.—State troopers are investigating three explosions which occurred here early today and which resulted in the partial destruction of the homes of four employees of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company. No one was injured.

MINERS' HOMES RUN GAMUT FROM BEST TO WORST

Carlville's "Mansions" Famous; Nilwood's
Huts Infamous.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Carlville, Ill., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—This town has a reputation for having the best miners' homes in Illinois. John Black, a union official of West Frankfort, in the southern part of the state, referred to them as "mansions." They are so good that Fred M. Jewell, a Blackburn college instructor, has purchased one here and moved into it.

By contrast, the worst looking miners' homes found in ten days' search are located near Nilwood, fifteen miles north. It is known as the "patch." These were set out in the field years ago and left to care for themselves. They were set in rows—some with a porch and others without—and if they ever were painted it was some time back.

Standard Oil Owns Mines.
In Carlville it is different. The Standard Oil company two years ago purchased the mine, which has been worked here for thirty-three years. They sank another and is now developing a third at Schoper, eight miles northeast.

All coal is shipped to Whiting, Ind., or to Wood River, near Alton, where it is used in oil refining. The mines, therefore, work every day possible. It is the management's intention to operate 283 days a year, while many other mines average less than 200 days a year.

Frank Fisher, general manager, said the Standard Oil decided that men with good steady incomes should have the opportunity of buying good modern homes. The company, therefore, engaged the Illinois lumber yards to erect 24 houses. They were completed within the last three weeks.

24 Houses Already Sold.
When they have all been offered for sale twenty-four have been disposed of and the manager of houses, Charles Fitzgerald, said today he will sell them all before Christmas.

"We are offering them for $1,000 less than the present cost of reproduction," he said. "We contracted for them some time ago and the erection started June, 1918. The company purchased a forty acre wheat field and the government would not permit the destruction of the crop. On the first house we were erecting the studding while the harvesters were shocking wheat twenty days away."

Variety for All Tastes.
Some are of a semi-bungalow type and others are house shaped. One has a plain gable roof, another a four gable, and another has a protruding roof decorated with a dormer window or two.

The floors are stained and varnished yellow pine, the kitchen floor looks like maple.

Each has a cement basement, a pantry, and a clothes closet for each sleeping room. All will have gas as soon as the local utility company will extend its plant.

Cement walks have been laid and the sewers are in and attached. In the spring the streets will be paved with bit asphalt with which many Chicago streets have been surfaced. Trees and shrubs have been planted on each lot.

The prices for the houses range from $3,370 to $4,000. Prof. Jewell selected one for which he paid $3,800. With him live two students of Blackburn college.

How Payments Are Made.
The purchaser pays 1 per cent a month, and, in addition, taxes, fire insurance, and 6 per cent on the unpaid portion of the cost. The 1 per cent is reckoned this way:

A house that sells for $3,500 will require $35 a month until paid for.

SANTA CLAUS VISITS LITTLE ON RUSSIAN COT

Red Cross Chief Seemed
Writer.

Head lacerated and leg broken by cannon fire at the front before Petrograd and now receiving only the most primitive hospital attention with wounded northwest Russian soldiers in a converted house, Richard Henry Little, the veteran war correspondent of The Tribune, and looks on the humorous side of things. The following dispatch, besides being signed with Mr. Little's name, bore the signature "Moritz," evidently some chance friend who wrote the dispatch at "Dick's" dictation and fled it for him. Mr. Little, it will be noted, is complaining gently of his diet, one of the unfailing signs of a mending physical condition.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
COPENHAGEN, Nov. 2.—Ward three of the General Reserve hospital at Yamburg was once the dining room of a fine residence; now it is crowded with fifteen beds of wounded officers, whose orderlies sleep on the floor. It was like a visit from Santa Claus this morning when Capt. Pollock of the American Red Cross came and gave every man in the room a bag containing three linen handkerchiefs, needles, buttons, pins, a box of cigarettes, and a cake of soap.

Especially Bed 7.
The things are badly needed, but the fact that the present was from America made the wounded men most happy.

Even the man in bed seven—that's I—felt cheered up.
Capt. Pollock said every wounded man in the northwest army was being given one of these comfort bags.

Then, too, we are all wearing American pajamas and dressing coats. Capt. Pollock now is contrabanding American Red Cross work in supplying the front line dressing stations with gauze, dressings, and medicine.

Cabbage Soup and Black Bread.
From the standpoint of a patient in a hospital, I wish America could help out the diet. Weak cabbage soup and black bread twice each day don't build up a sick man very fast, but it is all that the northwest army has to give its wounded.

CUT PRICES OF FURNITURE.
Winnetka, Minn., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The board of commerce, in charge of the prohibition examination in Canada under John R. Robinson, ordered all shampoos to sell for 10 cents at the price prevailing on March 10 last. The shampoos announced a change in the price lists, to be made at once.

BARCELONA EYES VIOLENT ACTS FROM LOCKOUT

BARCELONA, Nov. 2.—The civil government of Barcelona before dawn this morning conferred with the leading citizens in an effort to devise means for preventing the lockout by the employers set for tomorrow, and in the event of failure, making sure that order would be maintained.

All conferees promised to give their help to the government, to seek to prevent violence, and to work for the reestablishment of normal social conditions in the city.

The citizens of the town, who formed themselves into a force of special police, received orders to be ready for duty should the occasion require.

Four out of the nine important newspapers in Barcelona have stopped publication because of the impending lockout.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 2.—After making all preparations for the "most important convention in its history," word was received here today that the United States Brewers' association had canceled its meeting for Nov. 19.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 2.—Flying 115 hours without overhauling and with only one mishap, a Martin bombing plane containing Col. R. S. Hart, his pilot, and two mechanics arrived here today on their "round the rim" trip around the United States.

The plane, which flew from San Diego to El Paso without a stop, came here from El Paso. The party will leave tomorrow for New Orleans and Washington.

Gardiner, who recently resigned his editorship of the London Daily News, arrived here today. He counseled that all sides in the big mine struggle "keep cool," and a satisfactory conclusion of the fight will be possible.

Alfonso Fails in Mission in Behalf of Tangier

ROME, Nov. 1.—Delayed.—The Corriere d'Italia, semi-official organ of the Vatican, commenting on the visit of the king of Spain to Paris, says:

STRIKERS' WIVES ELECT MRS. GARY TO THEIR SOCIETY

to Arouse Interest.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Mrs. Elbert H. Gary of Fifth avenue, New York, is not to be excluded from the social circles of Fifteenth avenue in the city established by her husband. On the contrary it was made quite plain at a meeting of the wives of steel workers in Kostel hall this afternoon that the quarrel with Mr. Gary does not extend to his family.

Passing a resolution of sympathy for the wives of workmen who deserted the strikers and went back to the mills, the women's auxiliary elected Mrs. Elbert H. Gary a member of their organization, contingent upon her acceptance. The vote was unanimous.

Noting Mrs. Gary by Wire.
The following telegram was dictated by the president and upon approval of the meeting ordered sent to Mrs. Gary:

"We, the women of the steel strikers' auxiliary of Gary, have this day, in open meeting, elected you an honorary member of our organization. Kindly inform us if you will accept."

"By Mrs. Ella Largura, 2500 West Fifteenth avenue, secretary."

Approves Plan of Government.
In addressing the meeting T. J. Vind, organizer for the American Federation of Labor said:

"One thing about E. H. Gary is that he never heard your husbands to the polls and forced them to vote his way. If they voted for the capitalistic parties it was their fault. We have in our government something that makes it superior to all others and that is the system whereby we can elect the men we want to govern us and if they do not do what we want them to we can yank them out and elect somebody else."

"After the strike is settled," said Vind, "your men will get their jobs back and the scale will be fixed. We will win this strike."

Galeffi and Composer of 'La Nave' Reach New York

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Carlo Galeffi, a famed baritone, who is now under contract to the Chicago Opera company, arrived today on the Puget Sound Express. He expects to leave for Chicago tomorrow.

With Sig. Galeffi was the Italian composer, Italo Montemesoli, who wrote "The Love of the Three Kings" and "La Nave." The first performance of the latter opera will be given in November, and the composer will go to Chicago with Sig. Galeffi to attend the rehearsal.

The words of the opera were written by Gabriel D'Annunzio.

EAGER TOILERS IN BUSY PLANTS SAVE GERMANY

Scorn Strike Sirens and 8 Hour Limit to Boost Production.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable
[Copyright, 1918.]

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Cabinet President Bauer was not too optimistic when in parliament he said, "there are unmistakable signs of a reawakening of the characteristic strenuousness of German workers justifying our hopes that economic conditions will soon become quite tolerable."

The number of the unemployed has been reduced considerably from month to month. On Aug. 30, 301,000 unemployed were counted in 113 cities. On Oct. 19 only 232,000 unemployed were counted in 117 cities, including Berlin and most of the large places. The federal labor ministry calculates from these figures that there are about half a million in all Germany, while not six months ago it was nearly a million and a half.

Reasons for Situation.
From talks with officials and labor leaders are found the reasons for this comparatively favorable situation. First, employers have already gained a considerable increase in wages and other privileges all around. Secondly, they are tired of strikes, seeing their gains in wages swallowed by enforced idleness. Third, the reawakening of trade with foreign countries, which has already assumed a much larger proportion than in realized outside of Germany.

The ordinary clerk who earned 150 to 200 marks monthly before the war, today earns 300 to 500. The mechanic earning 300 before the war now gets 10,000 and more. The unskilled laborers paid 200 marks and more now was formerly satisfied with 100. Farm hands, whom the junkers used to pay a mere pittance, now get about 7 marks daily and decent food and lodgings. This may seem an exorbitant increase in wages, but, compared with the rise in prices all around, some of the laboring classes still have good ground for complaints.

Work More than 8 Hours.
The workmen are tired of strikes because they find even increased wages cannot make up for the missed pay days. One great incentive for strikes formerly was the chance of an extra holiday, but since the eight hour day was introduced the workmen have so much leisure they actually begin to hate it. The correspondent only repeats here what tramway employees have told him.

In some branches of industry overtime work, though officially prohibited, is tacitly permitted again, and everywhere efforts are made for reintroduction of piece work to satisfy the more ambitious workmen.

Scout for Skilled Men.
The manufacturers of Heringen have agents en route to recruit skilled workmen whenever found in Germany because they simply cannot supply all the goods ordered. They and other metal centers will only accept new orders, if the buyers agree to pay the

BATTLE BEFORE PETROGRAD

1—Gen. Yudenitch is reported to have captured Kraasia Gorka, on the Gulf of Finland, opposite Kronstadt. Kraasia Gorka has up to this time prevented him from advancing on Petrograd, along the coast.

2—Yudenitch is making a stand behind Gatchina, and apparently is not yielding any more ground to the bolsheviks.

3—Reports from Finland indicate that famine conditions prevail in Petrograd, and to almost the same extent in Moscow. Food brings fabulous prices, when it can be had at all. The population of Petrograd is reduced to only 100,000, it was a million and a half before the war.

4—Yamburg, where Richard Henry Little, The Tribune correspondent, was taken after he had been wounded. He was on the very front when hurt.

prices fixed by the manufacturers' association when the goods are ready, two or six months hence. If you do not agree, you must give your orders outside of Germany.

In many branches of the metal industry the trade unions have consented to a reintroduction of piece work, which acts as a great incentive.

Chemical Plants Flourish.
The chemical industry, too, is flourishing and most of the factories work three shifts for twenty-four hours. But it is only fair to state here that the inducements offered by the manufacturers in the metal and chemical branches would not be sufficient to keep their laborers steady if their high intelligence had not told them, and the experience of the last nine months taught them, that only work, work, work can save Germany. All good men have become convinced of this fact, and if, as in the present Berlin metal workers' strike, unruly, even criminal elements, sometimes have seemed to

STARVATION AND COLD STALKING IN PETROGRAD

Yudenitch Keeps Up His Gains, Says Helsingfors.

HELSINGFORS, Nov. 2.—Petrograd has been without bread for the last two weeks, thousands of persons dying daily, according to information brought to Helsingfors yesterday by a Finn who escaped from a prison camp at Moscow on Oct. 13.

The population of Petrograd has fallen below 400,000, he said. Herring were bringing 800 rubles each and potatoes 110 rubles the pound. Milk was 80 rubles the pint and meat was unobtainable.

Yudenitch Gains Reported.
The latest reports from the army of Gen. Yudenitch declare that he is steadily advancing on the entire front before Petrograd and to the south, his right flank being fully protected as the result of the progress made by the Estonians.

Considerable outpost fighting is in progress along the Finnish frontier. The Finns are refusing to take prisoners, wiping out yesterday a reconnoitering party of fifty bolsheviks.

Reports Allied-Red Deal.
LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Daily Herald, the Labor organ, declares it hears on good authority that the British government is favorably considering a proposal for a conference of soviet Russia with the entente allies. The conference would take place in a neutral country and would be on the lines proposed for the abandoned conference at Prinkipo island, the newspaper adds.

Take Town Near Kronstadt.
STOCKHOLM, Nov. 1.—[Delayed.]—The town of Kraasia Gorka, the strong bolshevik position on the Gulf of Finland just to the west of the island on which the fortress of Kronstadt stands, has capitulated to the forces of Gen. Yudenitch, according to a dispatch from Reval.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Dr. Gleising, burgomaster of Wiesbaden, in the occupied territory, has been deposed by the allied commander-in-chief on a charge of maladministration. Blame for the city coal shortage is imputed to him and he is charged with generally neglecting to cooperate with the French authorities. Dr. Gleising has been ordered to leave the occupied regions.

SENATE FIGHT ON TREATY TO REACH CRISIS THIS WEEK

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—With the administration forces in the senate fight on the ratification of the Versailles treaty ready to combat the proposal of Senator Lodge, the majority leader, to fix Nov. 12 as the time to vote on the ratifying resolution, the treaty battle is expected to run into its last phase this week.

Senator Hitchcock, the minority leader, said the administration forces were not going to be "trapped" into any move that would play into the hands of the majority.

The administration forces, Mr. Hitchcock said, would oppose the Lodge proposal because it might give the majority opportunity to run the debate up to voting time on Nov. 12, thus shutting off any move the Democrats might have to force a vote on the interpretative reservations.

JAPS NOTE ON SIBERIAN ROW WILL BE POLITE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Japan's reply to the American note that inquired whether the Japanese government is willing to cooperate with the United States in Siberia and threatened withdrawal of American forces, if the answer is negative, is expected to be conciliatory. It may express Japan's wish to cooperate with the United States, but deny the implication that cooperation heretofore has been denied.

The American note, according to advices from Tokio, caused a sensation in Japan, arousing the press to criticism of the United States.

GERMANS LEAD HUNDRED YEARS OF IMMIGRATION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Great Britain ranks first as a source of American immigration since 1820, followed by Germany, Italy, Austria-Hungary, Russia, and British North America. The Irish constituted the predominant element in British immigration, supplying in the last 100 years a number equal to the present population of Ireland.

These facts are cited in a statement on 100 years of American immigration issued by the commerce department.

"In view of its size," the statement says, "it is remarkable that Ireland has supplied 4,348,759 immigrants in the last 100 years—a number practically equal to its present population (4,390,219) according to the census of 1911. The arrivals from England for the same period totaled 2,434,144.

"Of the total immigration in 1820 the German empire contributed 11.5 per cent; in 1821, 4 per cent; in 1822, only 2 per cent, and continued to furnish only a small percentage until 1832. Thereafter immigrants arrived from Germany in growing numbers—in 1852, 145,918; in 1853, 141,946; 215,009 in 1854. The total number of immigrants admitted into the United States from Germany during the century under review was 3,494,833.

"Italian immigration is of comparatively recent growth. The total number of arrivals from Italy during the 100 years is 4,100,725."

LID ON ULSTER NATIONALISTS ROILS IRELAND

Carson Hinchman, Now Army Chief, Forbids Devlin Session.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Irishmen of all parties, except the Ulster Orange fanatics, view with anger the action of Dublin castle in prohibiting the demand of the Orangemen a meeting arranged to be held in Caledon, county Tyrone, by the constitutional Nationalists, of whom Joe Devlin is the leader. This is part of the new policy of "Ulster" to prevent any Nationalist activity in what they claim is their territory.

Claimed by Them.

Tyrone, though heavily Nationalist, is claimed by them and when the Devlin meeting was announced Sir James Strong, grand master of the Orangemen, announced it wouldn't be allowed and that Ulster volunteers would be mobilized to prevent it.

On the strength of this Gen. Hackett, who was Carson's chief of staff in the Ulster army and who now is a competent military authority in Ulster, prohibited the meeting on the ground it would lead to disorder. At the same time, he forbade the mobilization of volunteers, but that was exactly what the Orangemen wanted.

Plunkett Gave Warning.

In a speech at the National Liberal club in London two days ago Sir Horace Plunkett declared the present government of Ireland committed to "Ulster" without responsibility. This incident is a quick confirmation of Plunkett's statement.

This action of Dublin castle at the demand of the Orangemen seems designed to drive the last remnants of the Constitutional party in Ireland into the hands of the Sinn Fein extremists.

ROYAL ARMS DISFIGURED.

BELFAST, Nov. 2.—The magistrates of the police court at Belfast, County Cavan, on entering the court yesterday found the royal arms over the bench disfigured and with the outline of a skull drawn over them, together with the inscription R. I. P. (requiescat in pace). A large Sinn Fein flag was painted on the wall, with the flag of the Irish republic beneath. The republican flag is also floating over the town hall, the city council ignoring a request for its removal.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—In realization that Chicago as a manufacturing center offers a source of supply in manufactured staples unparalleled in the world, a party of sixteen specialists in various lines of merchandise, attached to the Bush Terminal company, will reach Chicago on Nov. 10 to make a first hand study of Chicago merchandise manufacturing.

While in Chicago the members of the party, who are specialists in their varied lines, will make a study of the following manufactures: Toys, knit wear, infants' and children's wear, blouses, lingerie, house dresses, musical instruments (pianos, piano players, talking machines), corsets and brassieres, boys' and men's wear, leather goods, boots and shoes, shoe findings, toilet preparations, house furnishings and house appliances, manufactures of the decorative arts and industries, dress fabrics and linings, notions and novelties, neckwear, vellings, gloves, and umbrellas.

The visit of the Bush Terminal experts follows the recent development of a project for intensive sales campaigns of American products abroad put forward by Irving T. Bush, head of the Bush Terminal, Brooklyn, N. Y. Bush has leased for ninety-nine years the three acre site, and shortly will begin construction of a Bush Terminal international sales building at the Strand and Aldwych, London. DENIKIN KILLS 2,000 JEWS NEAR KIEFF, REPORT Synagogue, Alleged Littered with Dead, Shelters Survivors.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

PARIS, Nov. 2.—A six day pogrom in Pskov, a little town near Kieff, was reported on Sept. 30, in the Kieff Echo, a newspaper which escaped the Denikin censor and just has been received in Paris. The reports say Denikin's soldiers massacred 1,600 to 2,000 Jews, and the dead bodies were lying in the streets for weeks. Many women and girls were violated. The synagogue and yard were strewn with bodies, and many who were killed in the village streets were killed.

In all 300 Jewish houses were set afire. Additional reports from the Jews of Kieff indicate assistance was sent, but they were unable to cope with the need.

"The yard of the synagogue is full of Jews who have escaped the wrath of the crowd. All are nearly completely naked and famished," says the report from Kieff.

VITAL ISSUES TOMORROW TO FACE CITIZENS

Convention Slate, Bonds,
City Plans, I. and R.,
Up at Polls.

In forty-six districts and the Labor party of Cook county has nominees in twelve Cook county districts. There are scattering independent candidates over the state.

As a usual thing, senatorial districts will return delegates nominated by the dominant party in each district. In some cases there is an arrangement by which one Republican and one Democrat is certain to be elected.

In Chicago there will be half a dozen close contests, notably in the First district, in the north side district, in the Fourteenth ward district on the west side, and in the Englewood district.

Fight on for Bench Posts.

For the judicial vacancies the Democrats nominated Judge John M. O'Connor for the Superior court vacancy and the Republicans named William F. Struckmann of Berwyn. In the primary of the Chicago Bar association Judge O'Connor defeated Mr. Struckmann by an impressive majority. The Democrats are counting upon an active organization effort to elect Judge O'Connor. The Republican managers fully expect to elect Mr. Struckmann without much trouble, on the theory that any election held now is Republican.

For the Circuit court vacancy the Republicans nominated Master in Chancery George Fred Rush of Hyde Park. The Democrats named Francis X. Busch of Lake View. In the bar primary Mr. Rush had a slight lead. Both candidates are recognized by lawyers as possessing high judicial qualifications.

For the Chicago Plan bond issues a highly organized campaign of publicity and education has been made, and nearly every political and civic organization in the city has endorsed all of the propositions. No opposition seems to have developed in any quarter.

The nonpartisan election and fifty ward acts have encountered serious political difficulties. They have the support of a joint organization of civic bodies that framed the bills and pushed them through the legislature last winter. They have the open opposition of Mayor Thompson, probably of a majority of aldermen, and quietly of many of the ward leaders, Republican and Democratic.

Wallop Seen for I. and R.

The vote on the so-called initiative and referendum questions is to be taken by senatorial districts. A majority vote cast on the proposition is supposed to "instruct" the two delegates from a district how they shall vote next winter in Springfield. If 50,000 votes are cast tomorrow in a given senatorial district, and but 3,000 voters vote on the I. and R. questions, the majority of the 3,000 would do the "instructing" according to the wording of the questions.

Downstate the indications are that a big wallop will be administered to the questions in nearly all of the senatorial districts. In Chicago there are a few districts where the questions are presented are given a chance to carry.

Women Can Vote.

Women voters are entitled to vote on every one of the propositions. They cannot vote for judges or delegates. Men voters may vote on everything involved. Voters must be registered in their present precincts to be permitted to vote.

The polls will be open from 6 o'clock tomorrow morning until 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Former Governor Dunne
Indorses Judge O'Connor

Former Gov. Edward F. Dunne has issued the following written endorsement of Judge John M. O'Connor for reelection as judge of the Superior court: "It is hardly necessary for me to say that I intend to vote for Judge O'Connor and have been urging all my friends to do the same. His record as state senator and as judge is as clean as a hound's tooth. He has earned the confidence of the people and I sincerely hope for his triumphant reelection."

HOYNE ATTACKS BUSCH; DENIES HE DEFEATED HIM

In an open letter addressed to Francis X. Busch, democratic candidate for Judge of the Circuit court, State's Attorney Hoyne yesterday denied that his opposition to Mr. Busch was due to the fact that the candidate had opposed him when he was running for mayor.

"I take it that a man who aspires to the bench should have integrity, ability, experience, be courteous, fair, impartial, free from entangling alliances and not controlled by a party boss," says Mr. Hoyne in his statement. "When I applied this test to the two candidates I necessarily decided in favor of Mr. Rush."

He follows with charging that Mr. Busch deliberately falsified when he stated that Hoyne said some of Mr. Busch's speeches contributed to his defeat for mayor. He also charges that Mr. Busch is the attorney for men accused of election frauds and that he had deserted former Mayor Harrison and former Mayor Dunne for the camp of their opponents.

The state's attorney also asserts that Mr. Busch sought his assistance in the present campaign and sent a judge to ask Mr. Hoyne to aid him.

ELECTION TESTS IN FOUR STATES DUE ON TUESDAY

National Issues Will Play
Part in the Contests.

Elections for governor will be held in several eastern states on Tuesday. The national issues are involved in most. The contests are:

In Maryland.

Harry W. Nice, district attorney of Baltimore county, is the Republican candidate against Attorney General Albert C. Ritchie, Democrat. The state is regarded as Democratic and the Republicans hope to win it over.

In Kentucky.

James D. Black, Democrat, has a hard fight to hold the state in the Democratic column against Edwin H. Moreau, a young and popular Republican who came within 472 votes of beating A. O. Stanley in 1912 for the governorship. National issues have been freely injected into the campaign.

In Massachusetts.

Governor Coolidge, barring entirely unexpected developments, ought to be re-elected as a Republican against Richard H. Long, Democrat, who has made the issue of the re-statement of the striking policemen discharged after they had walked out from duty in Boston.

In New Jersey.

Prohibition is the outstanding issue of the governorship race between Edward I. Edwards, Democrat, and Newton A. K. Hughes, Republican. Edwards is opposed to the prohibition amendment and Hughes favors its enforcement. New Jersey refused to ratify the prohibition amendment.

SIKES ATTACKS MAYOR'S STAND ON 50 WARD BILL

Charges that Mayor Thompson, in opposing the fifty ward law and the non-partisan law, "is playing the game of the aldermen from the small wards, like Coughlin," are made in a statement issued yesterday by George C. Sikes, a member of the committee on civic organization.

"Mayor Thompson is incorrect in his presentation of the facts," Mr. Sikes says, "and unfair when he tries to make it appear that the alignment on the fifty ward law and the non-partisan law is, or should be, the same as that on the traction question. The non-partisan and the fifty ward bills were introduced and vigorously championed in the legislature by Representative Dahlberg, who is also an assistant corporation counsel in the Thompson administration. The mayor's corporation counsel, Samuel A. Etelson, who is also a state senator, voted for both these bills in the form in which they were finally passed. If all the supporters of the non-partisan and fifty ward laws are hostile to the mayor's traction policies, must not the mayor's own corporation counsel and his assistant be included?"

ONE POLICEMAN DOES HIS BIT FOR BOND ISSUES

He Knows City's Needs for He Handles Rush Street Traffic.

BY EYE WITNESS.

You know those stickers reading MEN AND WOMEN OF CHICAGO, VOTE "YES" FOR A GREATER AND BETTER CHICAGO that have been appearing on the windshields of thousands of automobiles within the last few days.

You may also know Officer Henry Bender, the traffic boss on Rush street bridge and the good, helpful friend of every child, woman, and old man who, like the chicken of antiquity, want to get on the other side.

One Man's Work.

Well, the connection is this: Just one man, masked and unaided—and that man with a deluge of traffic on his mind that is not exceeded by the rush at any of the other bottle necks in this congested town—succeeded in getting those stickers relative to your duty at the polls tomorrow firmly affixed to 5,000 faunting Chicago automobiles.

The man was Officer Bender. He walked into the office of the Chicago Plan commission in the Hotel Sherman the other day and said, "I've used up 3,000 of 'em"—meaning the stickers—"and I want 2,000 more."

They're asking for 'em—yes they are, when Charles H. Wacker heard that he wished to pin something on Officer Bender, for, in Mr. Wacker's opinion, that kind of service in behalf of "our larger home," as he likes to call Chicago in its relation to Chicago Plan, represents true citizenship and expresses true community feeling.

But not having any medals at hand—as yet—for Henry Bender of Rush street bridge, Mr. Wacker gave him a fresh armful of stickers and his blessing.

Knows City's Needs.

From actual experience, daily and harassing, Officer Bender probably knows better than any other man in Chicago the desperate need of Chicago for the new traffic arteries which a favorable vote tomorrow on the $28,600,000 worth of bond issues will provide the community. He knows how the proposed widening and double decking of South Water street as a loop exit to the west side, how the extension of Ogden avenue across town from Union park to Lincoln park, and how the widening of Ashland and Western avenues and Robey street will all link up with the nearly completed Michigan avenue widening and double decking.

Those streets will receive from that thoroughfare current of traffic bound to the west side and will distribute those currents in a rational and expeditious way where now is confusion, congestion, loss of time, temper, and money.

Keeping the traffic moving over Rush street bridge under the present conditions is no job for a foolish man. It requires a great deal of alertness, firmness, and good nature, and leaves the man to charge little time for dreamy speculation, but in the midst of it Mr. Wacker's aid from the ranks has found time to ponder upon several problems of moment to the community. In short, Officer Bender knows—and works.

C. A. A. Takes Action.

So, too, to view from another angle this matter of serving the community by getting out and hustling for the bond issues, does the Chicago Athletic association. On Saturday the thousands of members of that organization began receiving this communication from its president, William B. Simpson: "At a meeting of the house committee held today it was the unanimous decision to urgently request our members to heartily support the bond issues for the Chicago Plan improvements on election day, Nov. 4. Vote yes on the first six questions on the ballot, thereby insuring years of work to the wage earners, more business for the industries and the beautifying of Chicago."

E. A. C. Also Appeals.

The governors of the Illinois Athletic club are out with an appeal along the same lines to their members. Other events of the closing hours of the campaign to make Chicago a home fit for humans were a service at Medinah temple last evening that roused the members of the Rev. Rufus A. White's People's church and the long session in behalf of the bond issues held by the presidents and secretaries of the United Societies at Sokol Chicago hall, Twenty-fourth street and Kedzie avenue. Gen. Wood participated in the Medinah temple service.

ALDERMEN SEE BILLION GAIN TO CITY BY ZONING

To Start an Educational Campaign for Its Adoption.

Chicago's delegation of city beneficiaries, returning yesterday from a day inspection tour of Canadian and western cities of the United States, will inaugurate immediately a propaganda campaign for zoning.

Plans obtained in New York, where a zoning law has been in operation three years, and in Newark and Philadelphia, where zoning measures are about to be adopted, have convinced them that zoning benefits will accrue to Chicago.

Benefits to City.
Among them are:
A billion dollar increase in realty value within a year because of the protection afforded property.

Augmented prosperity for all classes through the development of land now idle and nonproductive because of the uncertainty of owners as to the best investment use to which it could be put.

Elimination of the get-rich-quick realty manipulator by permanent designation of land uses, thereby precluding the possibility of willy-nilly subdividing and building of inferior houses to sell for speculative purposes.

Betterment of the public health by scientific regulation of the amount of sunlight and fresh air per individual in apartment houses, dwellings, and office and factory buildings.

Lessons from New York.
It was in New York that the Chicago delegation received its most instructive lessons. In a single block of that city within a period of six years assessed valuations of property within a single block were reduced from $17,000 to $7,000,000.

That was in what was once a retail shopping district, Sixth avenue and Twenty-third street, which had been degraded to such an extent by factories and it had to be abandoned. A similar condition existed in other districts. All this has now been eliminated through zoning.

Ways and means of creating a zoning commission for Chicago, surveying the city for districting purposes, and formulating a comprehensive zoning ordinance will constitute the next step taken.

Authority to direct this work has been delegated to the building and city hall committee, of which Ald. Joseph O. Kostner is chairman.
A conference will be called in the near future, at which the best zoning experts of America will speak. Soon thereafter a propaganda campaign will be inaugurated.

Mrs. Harry J. Alden went out on her back porch at 3944 Cortland street late Saturday night. Two men were there. They had revolvers. They forced her to go inside and pull down the shades.

Her baby, 3 years old, started crying. One of them threatened to kill the baby if Mrs. Alden didn't tell where her money was hidden.

She took her purse from beneath a mattress. It contained $35.50. They let her keep the 55 cents and escaped. Alden, employed by the Reliance State bank, was not at home at the time.

CRONIN'S TRIAL BY MERIT BOARD STARTS TODAY

CRONIN'S TRIAL BY MERIT BOARD STARTS TODAY

Capt. Thomas F. Cronin, suspended commander of the Warren avenue police district, will be placed on trial before the city civil service commission at 10 o'clock this morning in the city hall. He will face nine specific charges alleging, in substance, failure to fight vice and gambling and disregard of orders issued from the chief's office.

Representatives of the state's attorney's office will attend the hearing to watch for any possible evidence that might be used in criminal prosecution. Capt. Peter E. Coffin, president of the civil service commission, will head the trial board, with Commissioners Joseph P. Geary and Alexander Johnson assisting.

President Coffin yesterday repeated his statement that there is to be no whitewashing.

Capt. Cronin yesterday maintained the silence he went into the day of his suspension. Friends of Cronin say that he will endeavor to prove that he passed all orders on to his lieutenants and that they failed to keep him informed as to conditions.

The five detective sergeants and patrolmen suspended with Capt. Cronin will be heard as soon as the captain's case is concluded.

HAYWOOD, RUN OFF CURB, TALKS FROM A WINDOW

Sioux City, Iowa, Nov. 2.—[Special.] "Big Bill" Haywood addressed 5,000 persons here this afternoon. The Auditorium management canceled his engagement, nor did he speak on the street, because the police forbade it. He spoke from a window of I. W. W. hall, his audience standing in the street.

A clash was feared between several hundred members of the American Legion and I. W. W.'s, many of them armed with guns stolen from a store here last night.

The speaker refrained from inflammatory statements and was frequently cheered by members of his organization. He proclaimed in favor of the Russian bolshevik and soviet government, gloried in the steel and mine strikes, and said, "You may have to burn some of your high priced corn this winter to keep warm."

Liberty Square in Nice Called 'Wilson Square'

NICE, Nov. 2.—[By the Associated Press.]—The formal renaming of Wilson square, hitherto known as Liberty square, was made the occasion of a public ceremony yesterday. The mayor in his speech reviewed the work done by President Wilson on behalf of France and ended by expressing the hope that the president soon would be restored to health. Playing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" by the municipal band concluded the exercises.

KILLED BY CHICAGO HUNTER.
Bardonia, Ill., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—While Loren Thompson and others of Chicago were hunting near Bardonia yesterday afternoon, a gun was discharged and Howard O. March, the Bardonia guide, was shot and died this morning. The coroner's verdict was accidental shooting.

COTTAGE GROVE AVENUE POLICE RAID DISTRICT

Police under Capt. James Allman and Lieut. Joseph O'Connell of the Cottage Grove police station made several raids in their precincts Saturday night and early yesterday morning.

At 2505 South Michigan avenue twelve men and four women were arrested. Harry Lewis was booked as keeper and all will be arraigned in the Municipal court today.

Twenty-one men were taken at 2223 Cottage Grove avenue, a cigar store. Detective Sergeant Michael Wagner with several policemen surrounded a store at 18 West Twenty-ninth street and arrested twenty-three men, all colored. They are booked on gambling charges, and William Hawkins of 1823 South Dearborn street, colored, was booked as keeper.

Following raids Saturday night in which forty men were arrested, the Maxwell street police continued their operations last night with the arrest of eighteen men charged with playing dices.

YANK AUXILIARY STAGES BATTLE ON $6,000 FUND

"Let Boys Have It," Cry as Members Clash; Plan Wins Out.

Members of the auxiliary of the 125th field artillery sat in for a peaceful session at the Morrison hotel yesterday. Business progressed without interruption until the question of disposing of the $6,000 trust fund was taken up. Then the dove flapped its wings and flew.

The auxiliary, Mrs. H. P. Goodnow, president, explained, had a surplus of $6,000. This, it was said, had been placed for a period of ten years with a trustee, of which Attorney Francis J. Houlihan is the chairman. This subject proved the explosive hand grenade of the session.

"Give Boys the Money."

From a little man of the name of Krugness, in the rear of the house, came the first voice of dissatisfaction. Introducing himself as having been a worker for the auxiliary, he continued: "Why should this money which we have earned for the boys be tied up in a trust fund? We worked because we thought they could have the money when they returned. We don't want a trust fund."

There was a volley of opinions and suggestions from all sides. Some of the opinions were not in the least clubby, it was declared.

A remark that the Battery B auxiliary had given each of its boys a pocket-book with a dollar inside was countered by "that was an insult to them" from a woman orator.

Mrs. Goodnow smiled and asserted she was in favor of giving the money to the boys immediately.

And—Boys Get Money?

The dispute was ironed out when it was decided to notify the executive committee that the majority favored the distribution of the money to the various batteries as soon as the individual organizations were perfected.

The executive committee also came in for a scolding because it was alleged by some of the members that it had "fallen down" on the job.

ROMAN GUEST

Director of Vatican Choir Singers Who Paid Chicago Visit Yesterday.

MGR. RAFFAELE CASIMIRO CASIMIRO.

CITY'S WONDERS GIVE VATICAN CHOIR BUSY DAY

"Smoky, Too Swift," Says Priest in Sketch of Chicago.

Seventy-five Vatican choristers from Rome, including twelve priests, Mgr. Raffaele Casimiro Casimiro, director, and a score of boy singers dropped in on Chicago from Milwaukee yesterday while the church bells were ringing. The arrival itself was uneventful, but the reception by Mgr. Francis Kelley and his committee was marked by snap and precision. The wide-eyed visitors were hustled into taxicabs and rolled through the loop to the Auditorium hotel, where they registered and breakfasted.

Sing at Holy Name.

At 11 o'clock they were seated in the organ loft at the Holy Name cathedral, where Chicago heard them for the first time. During the solemn high mass two motets by Palestrina were sung. Archbishop Mundelein assisted at the services. In the afternoon the songsters donned their walking shoes and inspected Houlihan, the link, and the park system, and the regular supper hour found few present. At 8 o'clock the party sat in for the evening meal. It was stated by the few English speaking members that more than half of the party had served in the Italian army. The twelve priests were said to have been under fire along the Austrian front for prolonged periods.

"Smoky—Too Swift—Chicago!"

The Rev. Giuseppe Rotunno, assistant director, who was an officer in the Italian army, modestly refused to tell of his war experiences. Through the interpreter, the Rev. Father Charles Marshall of Notre Dame university, he gave his abbreviated impressions of the city. He rubbed his eyes as if to eliminate the soot.

"Smoky," he said several times. He then attempted to demonstrate the swiftly moving traffic by gestures. "Too swift," was his deduction. Monsignor Casimiro was slightly worried because his choir raiment had not arrived from Milwaukee, and emphasized this fact in his native tongue. The director holds the titles of professor of music at St. John Lutheran and professor of composition at the pontifical school, Rome. The choir is divided into eight companies, with a priest as leader of each. The only discipline in force is directed toward the eight to fourteen year old group, which dotes on movie shows, zoos, and pillow fights.

To ALL BANKS and Trust Companies:

to be on their guard against forgers and check raisers.

Despite the losses occasionally by the work of this expert criminal class, there has never been any absolute insurance for business men and banks until now.

Careful business men have insured against every other contingency but have been unable to get 100% check protection until the National Surety Company (World's Largest Surety Co.) offered its to business men. This bond absolutely insures the drawer of the check as well as the bank against any loss occasioned by forgery, or check alteration. Needless to say every Bank and clear-thinking Business man endorses this protection.

It is an absolute guarantee of safety at a very nominal cost. No business man can afford to risk his liquid assets by neglecting this simple, inexpensive insurance.

The man who insures his bank balance against loss, at the same time makes himself in the eyes of the banker a much better credit risk. Banks like to lend money to careful men who take every precaution against loss.

RED CROSS OPENS DRIVE TODAY TO ENLIST 500,000

100,000 Letters Sent Out in Campaign for $1,000,000.

The Red Cross drive in Chicago for 500,000 members and $1,000,000 in subscriptions is on. While 5,000 women are working to secure half a million "Dollar" written appeals to 500,000 friends of the Red Cross and their contributions, signed by Frank O. Wetmore, chairman of the campaign, are in the mails, Chairmen Wetmore, in speaking of the campaign for funds, pointed to the need for money to complete the reconstruction and other unfinished jobs overseas, as well as for aid to the enormous business activity which now occupies the time of the Chicagoans," said Mr. Wetmore yesterday, "the final war fund drive of the Red Cross will have to be conducted on a different plan."

Final War Fund Drive.
With the sending out of 500,000 letters, urging the need of more money to complete the obligations the Red Cross has assumed, the issue is put squarely up to Chicago, and a prompt response is looked for. This is absolutely the final war fund drive of the Red Cross in Chicago.
Added impetus to the loop campaign is given by the fact that the opening of additional booths. Mrs. D. Black and Mrs. Frederick Wetmore, in speaking of the campaign, said that a telephone survey of more workers Saturday and Sunday to take charge of enrollment stations in specialty shops, taverns and other advantageous points. "We need 400 additional accredited Red Cross workers," said Mrs. Black.

Churches Assist.
Members of churches, in addition to the Red Cross Sunday by sermon and speeches, requested workers to be present at all services to receive membership dollars.

Among churches at which women in Red Cross garb were present yesterday were St. E. church, Berwyn and Kenmore avenues; the Warren Avenue Congregational church, on the west side, and St. Thomas' Catholic church, at Fifty-fifth and Kimbark. Campaign activities on the west side were directed by captains working with Mrs. Philip Schuyler Doane; Mrs. J. W. Upham will be in charge on the north side; Mrs. John MacMahon, on the south side, while Miss Cornelia Conger and Miss Carrie Pam will direct canvas workers stationed in loop railway stations, banks and public buildings.

PERSHING ASKS $5,000,000.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Testifying to the splendid service of the American Red Cross in France, Gen. Pershing, addressing volunteer workers in the third Red Cross roll call that opened throughout the nation today, declared that upon its "traditions" built up during the war should be founded a permanent society to meet any future emergency.

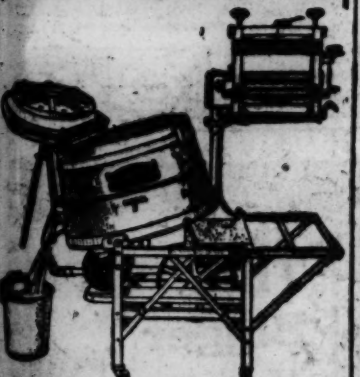

"The American people may justly be proud of the American Red Cross," Gen. Pershing said. "The story is best told by the widows and orphans of our war and by the mutilated soldiers who received assistance."

"The experience the American Red Cross has had in the last two and a half years should form the foundation of a society proud of its service, proud of its tradition, that would enable us to carry forward the work with an enthusiasm and enthusiasm."

Declaring that he "deprecated placing any limit on American Red Cross membership," Gen. Pershing said he would like to see it increased to 50,000,000.

patrol, Doornbosch, Sullivan, and Schmidt. They were told burglars were in a saloon at that corner. The wagon stopped on the southeast corner. The saloon was across the street. Two men were seated on a wagon. Two others were lifting a barrel of beer into the vehicle. Four others stood near by. Two were inside. Both squads were together on this occasion.

Capture One After Battle.

The four lookouts opened fire at once. The two men on the wagon drove the vehicle down the street a little way. They, too, opened fire. In a minute the bullets were coming from every angle.

Three policemen, lying on their stomachs in the street, replied as best they could. Three policemen battled with ten robbers. They captured one. Sullivan got him as he went to leap a fence. He smashed him over the head with his gun. The captive, Joseph J. Green, 1151 Milton avenue, took out his handkerchief, and put it on his head.

Quinn Forces Confession.

Quinn and Powers hurried to the station, and Quinn began to question Green.

"I know you," he said, "and I know who was with you."

"Mickey O'Malley was there, wasn't he? And Victor Rizzio? And Carlo Pettello?"

He named others, terrified Green, and made him confess. Green told all, implicated all the gang. One by one Quinn and Powers, who knew them, picked them up. All save Carlo Moretti, the lieutenant; Carlo Pettello, 1452 North Park avenue; and Frank Giardinello, 900 Milton avenue.

Green was put in jail. His bonds were fixed at $15,000. His pals were put in there, too. They tortured him with threats. He must take back his confession. He must say he was made to confess, that Quinn had threatened him, punched him, beat him unmercifully. Moretti and Pettello came to him and threatened to kill him. Then they walked into the station and gave themselves up. Green was brought to see them. He did not know them, he said.

Detective Keeps Up Fight.

He retracted his confession. He showed the blood stained handkerchief. He showed the mark made by Sullivan's gun. He said Quinn had broken his head. It looked like the end of Quinn's case.

Quinn went to the state's attorney and talked. Then he went before the grand jury and obtained the indictment of all the gangsters.

He got Moretti and Pettello. He had all but Giardinello. He had Gloria. Rizzio, O'Malley, Dominick Nuccio, Joe Calli, and Michael Lisandrella, 828 Milton avenue, the grocer he suspected of being the fence, the man he charged with selling the stolen whiskey and beer.

Then on Sept. 8, John Gagliardo and Charles Ramondo were murdered in front of 900 Milton avenue—Giardinello's home. Detectives Haynes and Boitano brought in Giardinello, and charged him with arranging the murder. They couldn't prove anything against him, but Quinn had him.

It now remained for Quinn to get Green to stick to his confession. He had heard about the threats. He had heard, too, that there was actually a plot to take Green's life. He chuckled.

led. He let Green stay in jail a little longer. Then he went to see Green's mother.

He showed her the confession. He told her of the threats. He proved to her he was right.

"Your son got out of the army on April 24," he said. "He joined the Gloriana gang. He had met them all before in Pontiac. He was admitted only that he might take the blame for everything that happened prior to April 24.

"... was to stand trial, and then to prove he was in the army at the time. He was to be the goat. This gang hasn't used your son right. Even now they are plotting to kill him. I can't offer him immunity if he stands by his confession as he should. But I will try to make it easier for him. And I will see that he lives."

"For that," said Mrs. Green, "I will do anything. I will go to see my son."

Bitterly Fought Trial.

Quinn went to Alcock. "He asked leave to give his own bond for Green, to amount to be specified, and to house him in the Chicago avenue station, to feed him well, and give him all the cigarettes he craved. Alcock told him "go the limit."

And so when the case came to trial Green pleaded guilty, and stuck to his confession. It was a bitter trial. At torneys C. C. Williams, representing

O'Malley, and Rocco De Stefano, counsel for the others, brought witnesses of respectability — missionaries, physicians, business men—to prove alibis.

Quinn, all alone, went out and got the evidence to show the alibis would not stand up.

The missionary stated that at a certain hour on a certain day Moretti was home in bed. Quinn proved that at that time he was in a cell at the Chicago avenue station. The physician stated he was attending Giardinello for appendicitis. Quinn proved that he and others had searched Giardinello's home every day for weeks, and that Giardinello never had appendicitis.

Judge Pam was so impressed with the work of Quinn and the necessity for holding the prisoners that on the retiring of the jury he canceled all their bonds and ordered them locked up and carefully guarded until the verdict was read.

Alcock thanked John Quinn last night, and told him to report back to the homicide squad for duty. But Capt. Dennis Malloy wants him to come back to Chicago avenue.

"We aged him here," he said. "There isn't another man like him on the force. He knows this district like no body else. He's proved it in this case."

UNSELFISH FOLK SALT OF EARTH, VANDYKE SAYS

"There are too many mouse eaten Christians in the world," Dr. Henry Vandyke told the Sunday Evening club last night in Orchestra hall.

"If you concentrate all your attention and affection on yourself, you are doing not the best, but the worst for yourself. You are going to be a smooth, self-satisfied prig or a sour old curmudgeon. The Bible tells us plainly that kind of religion does not count."

"The unselfish folk who try to do right are the salt of the earth. Without them it would rot—and there are spots that are pretty rotten right now."

"Some Christians are like candles that have been lighted once, then put away in a cupboard to be eaten up by mice. And there are lots of these mouse eaten—and rather eaten—Christians."

Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, Trustee.

We summarize the following statements from a letter of Mr. John W. Bailey, Vice President of the Company:

The Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co. was organized under the laws of the State of Michigan, in February, 1906, and controls through stock ownership the W. K. Kellogg Cereal Company.

The plant of the Company now contains nearly 15 acres of floor space. It is built of reinforced concrete, and is fireproof. Ten thousand bushels of white southern corn are used daily in manufacturing Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes. The daily capacity is 18,000 cases of 36 packages each. The shipping capacity is 30 cars per day. Since the organization of the Company $10,000,000 has been spent in advertising the products of the Company. Among the best known of the Company's products are Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes, Kellogg's Krumbles, Kellogg's Drinket and Kellogg's Krumbled Bran.

These notes will be the direct obligation of the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co. and the only funded debt of the Company. No liens or incumbrances on any of the Company's assets of whatever nature or kind prior to the indebtedness created by these notes will be made or suffered to be made by the Company.

Net quick assets of the Company are approximately equal to four times the amount of the note issue, and the earnings of the Company are running well over ten times the annual interest requirements thereon.

The notes are offered subject, when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of our attorneys, Messrs. Levinson, Becker, Schwartz & Frank, at

99% and interest, to yield over 6.25%

It is expected definitive notes will be ready for delivery on or about November 10th.

CAMPAIGN PLAN TOLD IN DETAIL BY LADY ASTOR

Asserts Women Are Needed for Real Government.

BY NINA BANCROFT.

(United News Staff Correspondent.)
PLATTSMOUTH, England, Nov. 2.—
Lady Astor has arrived here, unpacked her baggage, and is busily engaged in the preliminaries of opening her campaign for parliament tomorrow.

The fact that she is the first woman in England—and an American woman at that—who threatens to hold a seat in the commons doesn't faze her a bit.
She is extremely business-like in her preparations for the campaign, is gayly expectant of entering a contest of strength and great interest, and is absolutely confident that she will win.
As for a woman sitting in the commons, she says there is nothing strange about it—it should have been effected long ago; woman did more than her share and showed her worth during war, and all that sort of thing.

Is Not a "Pussyfoot."
Lady Astor denied the published report that she was standing as a "pussyfoot" candidate.

"While I am a believer in prohibition," she said, "I am not in favor of putting it down the throats of the people. I believe the salvation of the world is to be found in Christianity, not in I don't believe in forced Christianity, which tends to make hypocrites. That doesn't mean I don't believe in both Christianity and prohibition, for I know that both must come before we get the perfect world we're striving for."

What She Will Seek.

Outlining her policy if she is sent to parliament, she declared that it would be her duty—and she would abide by it—to treat all questions on their merits, irrespective of their origin. The labor party, she believes, contained much that was good, but now is being ruined under the guidance of a "few advanced young intellectual Socialists."
"It would be impossible for me to represent any one class," Lady Astor said, "when I have friends and supporters among all classes. I want to represent all that is best in every class."
As for the liquor question, there are three alternatives before the country: nationalization, with local option, or total prohibition. "I am against immediate prohibition on anybody. That is anti-Anglo-Saxon. I am perfectly cerain, if they see the country would be ruined without drink, they will give up."

DOUBT IS CAST ON BURNING OF $220,000 BONDS

Confession Generally Is Accepted, but Not in Detail.

According to L. M. Kennett, the telegrapher who stole $250,000 in Liberty bonds from the Studebaker corporation at South Bend, $220,000 worth of the bonds were destroyed in the furnace in his home two days after the robbery. According to the Pinkerton detective agency, Kennett is probably telling the truth. The authorities at South Bend also are inclined to believe Kennett's confession.

But there are a few points in Kennett's statement that may indicate that the bonds were chucked into some other repository than Kennett's home burner. The points are listed below.

1. Kennett says that for two days he carried the bonds in the inside pocket of his overcoat. THE TRIBUNE reporters were sent to South Bend at the time of the robbery recall that in those two days the desks and clothes of almost every employe of the plant were thoroughly "frisked."

2. Kennett is believed to have sent the message ordering the shipment of the bonds to South Bend. This would point to premeditation, although he did not know the exact date on which the bonds would arrive.

3. Although the bonds are not negotiable, in the opinion of several bankers, it might be possible to present the coupons at the banks and obtain the interest, without detection. They might also be marketable in Europe, or might be used as collateral on foreign investments.

There are also some minor discrepancies which might be significant in Kennett's statement as compared to that of Eddie Snyder, the office boy. Also in the examination of Kennett's motives in "burning up" $220,000 worth of bonds and retaining $30,000 worth.

Nicholas R. Feltes, treasurer of the Studebaker corporation and the man who signed the complaints against Kennett and George Good, apparently is the only skeptic among those interested in the recovery of the bonds.

Questions Confession.

"Kennett's statement sounds rather far fetched," said Mr. Feltes yesterday. "It is hard to believe that a man would deliberately burn up $220,000 in negotiable securities. The first reports of his confession seem to be incorrect. He now says he burned the bonds the day after the robbery, instead of Monday—two days later."

Kennett and Good are held at South Bend in $10,000 bonds. Kennett is charged with grand larceny; Good with conspiracy to commit a felony. John Cook of Kalamazoo, who attempted to collect on the bonds by telling an attorney he was holding them as collateral for three $10,000 notes, is free and out of Indiana, making extradition papers necessary for his return.

Mr. Feltes explained that he was not asked to sign any complaint against Cook. J. H. Schumacher, superintendent of the Pinkerton agency, supposed Cook was in jail yesterday.

$152,000 IN A DAY AIDS JEWISH FUND; DRIVE ENDS TODAY

THIS is "clean-up day" in the campaign to aid the Jewish war sufferers of Europe. Although the nonsectarian drive officially closed Saturday night, so many uncollected subscriptions were received after the closing hour it was decided to give the army of workers one more day to compute donations and spread their message of humanity.

Yesterday mails brought more than $152,000 in checks and pledges to the headquarters of the Chicago Jewish relief committee at 163 West Washington street.

This evening a final rally of committee officials and team leaders will be held at the Hotel Sherman, and the approximate total of subscriptions will be announced.

Banks everywhere use the L. B. Card ledger—

Twenty-five years ago the first bank installed the L. B. Card ledger. The list has grown steadily. Today this master-method of handling active, inactive and savings accounts is used by banks, large and small, in every section of the country.

These banks adopted it only after careful investigation and comparison. They found, as you will find, that no other ledger can approximate it in speed, in accuracy, in simplicity.

Reference to any account is almost instantaneous. The cards are easily and quickly handled. The method of guiding leads the fingers straight to the right card. The L. B. Card ledger is especially adaptable to posting by machine;—assuring speed-with-accuracy.

A visit to our sales rooms will show you why the L. B. Card ledger is making good—not only in banks, but in commercial houses of every class.

When Is First Cost Absorbed?

It is usual to charge 20% a year depreciation against a $6,000 truck—$1200.

Now for a common problem: A contractor needs truck transportation for three years. If he buys a six thousand dollar truck those three years will show a total depreciation of $3,600.00. The three-year depreciation on his $6,000 truck is greater than the cost of a new 3½-ton Bethlehem.

Bethlehem Motor Trucks are neither underbuilt to meet a price nor overbuilt to justify a price. In them, Price and Quality combine to make greatest value. They are willing to be judged as motor trucks should be judged—on their ability to transport and the cost per ton mile of that transportation. Buy your Motor Truck on Facts.

YELLOW CAB Is Absolutely Sanitary

Cleanliness is not only next to Godliness, but it is a mighty big element in human safety. If a public vehicle is in an unsanitary condition when it asks for public patronage, somebody is guilty of criminal negligence.

An unclean, ill-smelling cab is an abomination and a menace to public safety.
Any one who uses it takes big chances on his health.

If the Health Officer would care to inspect YELLOW CABS as they leave our garages to report for duty, he would learn something that would furnish him a text for a powerful sermon on the subject of cleanliness of public conveyances.

Capable, high-paid men who are trained in the Art of Cleanliness wash the interior of YELLOW CABS. This is a careful operation and not a mere slapping on of sponge and water. They not only use soap and water but scrub brushes which reach every crack and crevice.

Then they pass into the hands of the disinfecting crew which sprays them with a powerful disinfectant that is made for us by a competent physician and chemist. There is absolutely no chance for disease germs to lurk in a YELLOW CAB.

We regard cleanliness as one of the vital elements in the SAFETY we write so much about in our advertising. Safety doesn't merely mean accurate driving and freedom from accident. It means clean cabs, clean drivers and clean methods.

ization and financial responsibility

ARREST SOLVES MYSTERY BASED UPON BAD CHECKS

Telegram About 'Double' on Spree Disturbs Doctor's Family.

Perhaps every family at one time or another—for reference see the writings of Mr. A. Conan Doyle—has its little private mystery.

The mystery of the Peterson family came into being on Oct. 14 with the receipt at the Peterson home, 3756 Fullerton avenue, of a telegram. It died a timely death last night with the receipt of a second message.

On the former date, Mrs. Hattie Peterson ripped open a Western Union envelope and read:

"Party here representing self as Dr. T. J. Peterson is drinking heavily and in financial difficulty. Please wire what lodge he belongs to and who he knows will give him help. C. M. Cooper, Los Angeles, Cal."

Doctor in Chicago.

Dr. Theodore J. Peterson, far from being in Los Angeles, Cal., was very busily engaged in the practice of medicine on the north side, where he lives, when the message arrived.

When he returned a half hour later, therefore, Mrs. Peterson showed him the telegram and asked counsel.

"Forget about it," he said. "It must be another Dr. Peterson."

The morning of Oct. 15 brought another angle of the Peterson mystery.

An official of the Lake View Trust and Savings bank called up Dr. Peterson.

"We have your check of Oct. 8, dated Los Angeles, Cal., for $100," said the bank officer. "As you know, you have no account here."

Dr. Peterson professed ignorance of the check and denied that he had ever been in Los Angeles.

Checks Pile Up.

Oct. 16 came another call from the bank. "This time it was a check for $50. The calls were repeated on the 18th, 20th, and 22d. Each time there was a new check, and each time Dr. Peterson entered his denial.

However, mysteries can not live forever. Last night, Mrs. Peterson received the following wire from Los Angeles:

"Charles V. Zernack has been indicted by the county grand jury on a charge of forging the names of members of the Logan Square lodge of Chicago to checks.

"Zernack, posing as Dr. T. J. Peterson, a well known member of the lodge, visited members of the Logan Square lodge now living here, and induced them to advance him money on the alleged forged pass. His bail is fixed at $5,000."

Dr. Peterson was notified of the arrest.

"Thank heavens," he said. "That has been worrying my wife to death. Zernack was formerly a member of Logan Square lodge, No. 891, of the A. F. and A. M. I never made his acquaintance."

ECHOES

William McKinley Post of the American legion will meet tonight in the Southwest Trust and Savings Bank hall, Thirty-fifth street and Archer avenue, to receive new charter members.

At a meeting of the gold star mothers at 17 North Wabash avenue this afternoon the women who have sons still buried in French soil are going to take action on the question of bringing back to America the bodies of their sons.

Mothers of Battery C, 149th field artillery, will meet in the south tearoom at Marshall Field's tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

HOW MUCH PER STEP DID DANCE COST THIS GIRL?

Sergt. Tim Mulcahey, expert mathematician of the police department, is confronted with a problem. "How many steps are there in a dance?" If Tim can get this information, he will know how much per step it cost Miss Fay Metcalfe, 4322 Michigan boulevard, to dance Saturday night.

Miss Metcalfe was relieved of her fur coat, purse, powder puff, and veil while dancing at the Terrace Garden. A "dark handsome man" who had been sitting close to her table was not in sight when she returned.

Sergt. Mulcahey has fixed Miss Metcalfe's loss at approximately $200, including the powder puff. But the average cost per step is what puzzles him.

HARVEY TURNS OUT AT FETE FOR EX-WARRIORS

As a feature of a rally to promote the spirit of Americanization, soldiers, sailors, and marines were entertained yesterday at Harvey.

The affair was under the auspices of the Harvey post, American Legion; the Elks' and other lodges; the Methodist, Christian, Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian, and Catholic churches, and representatives of the United States army.

Among the speakers were the Rev. F. G. Rideout, army chaplain. Assisting in the program were Grace Jullich, Ethel Sober, Vera Strout, Mary McClure, Gertrude Van Laningham, Fey Reynolds, Mrs. S. A. Barkwid, Ethel Strout, Erma Lyster, and Gwendolyn Pike.

A supper was served in the basement of the Methodist Episcopal church of Harvey.

Announcing the Re-creation of ANHEUSER-BUSCH'S FAMOUS Budweiser

IT is the fixed policy of Anheuser-Busch to comply with every provision of public laws and regulations. That policy will be adhered to in the future as in the past. In view of the Act of Congress, effective October 29, 1919, we feel that our many friends and customers have the right to know how the Anheuser-Busch industrial plants will be utilized.

Our greater development plans include, among other new products, an additional cereal beverage to which we shall apply our well-known trade-name Budweiser. This beverage will be manufactured, in every detail, according to our original Budweiser process, and de-alcoholized to conform to Federal law. It will possess the genuine Budweiser flavor and quality.

Budweiser, re-created, will be manufactured from the choicest, most wholesome and nutritious cereals—and hops, noted for their tonic effects. It will be fully and maturely lagered, put up in sterilized, hermetically sealed, 12-ounce brown bottles, and pasteurized to insure its permanent purity and quality.

We guarantee that this Budweiser is bacteria free, will keep in any climate, and is healthful and nutritious.

We shall be ready to begin shipments by January 1, 1920.

Budweiser is manufactured and bottled exclusively at the plant of

JUST at the right time, the cheery whistle of the Whistler announces that the tire has enough air. No need to worry with a pressure gauge. You can't put too much in. The Whistler closes on time.

Do you know what this means? It means lengthening the life of your tires by 60%. It means cutting down gasoline consumption by from 15% to 20%. It means an end to most of your tire troubles.

Ordinarily tires don't wear out—they give out, or blow out. Many times a flat tire may cause you to miss an important engagement—lose a contract or even endanger life. It is always unpleasant.

Why take the chance? Why subject a mechanical job to human guess work? Let the Whistler tell you exactly when you've got enough air in your tires. Then you are safe. Then you can ride anywhere secure in the knowledge that your tires are right.

Ask any expert how much longer a correctly inflated tire will last. Put the Whistler on your tires and prove it for yourself. $4.00 per set of four.

MEAT BUTCHERS PUT $3 LIMIT ON RAISE IN WAGES

Say Strikers' Demands Would Raise Meat Price 5 Cents.

A committee of twenty-five master butchers, representing 4,000 retail meat stores of Chicago, met at the Hotel La Salle yesterday afternoon to consider action in regard to strikes by meat cutters. Saturday morning the employees of twelve butcher shops walked out, leaving quantities of meat in the counters.

"I don't believe they will dare call a general strike," said J. T. Russell, former national president of the United Master Butchers' association, for they realize that the public would be against them."

Ask $10 Minimum. The meat cutters demand a $40 minimum wage and the discontinuance of an arbitration clause. Their employers say they can only give them $3 more on the $29 minimum scale of last year. Granting their demands would mean a raise of from 3 to 5 cents a pound in the consumer's meat bill, they say.

Deny Profiteering. They took occasion to challenge the charges made by Guy E. O'Neal, financial secretary of the Meat Cutters' union, that he will expose profiteering on the part of the dealers. Picketing and a bit of window smashing marked the first day of the meat strike.

Vote YES on All Bond Issues Federal Dry Law Drives Saloon Man to Suicide

When wartime prohibition went into effect on July 1 the business of Jack Stock's saloon at 1041 North California avenue dropped off considerably, but he was still able to make a profit. But when congress passed the enforcement law over the president's veto he gave up and cut his throat. He died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital.

FAIR FOOD PRICE LIST OUT TODAY, CHAIRMAN SAYS

Announcement of a "fair price" list covering many articles of staple food is expected today, following a meeting of the office of Sol Westerfeld, chairman.

Charging in excess of the price fixed, according to Chairman Westerfeld, will be a basis for prosecution of retailers under the Lever act.

Russell J. Poole, city food director, who furnished information to District Attorney Clyne upon which warrants were issued for two retailers Saturday, declared this case was the first "perfect case" of profiteering on food presented since the amendment and strengthening of the Lever act.

The men hit by the warrants are Charles F. Kieckhefer, owner of the Mutual Grocery company, 4424 South Ashland avenue, and A. A. Zdrozowski, manager. The charge is selling 1,732 pounds of granulated sugar at 17 1/2 cents a pound.

Scarred Soldier Trails Thief Who Robbed Girl

One year ago Edward Emsel, 2943 Thomas street, was lying in the Argonne woods with both legs punctured with bullets. Today the wounds are healed, and he has started a walking campaign in search of the thief who stole a blue beaded bag from his sweetheart, Ella Mandler, 1008 California avenue, while Ed and Ella were walking arm in arm along Madison street. It is said to have contained $14 in currency, and some "precious cards."

Last night a stranger phoned Miss Mandler that she could have the bag and contents if she made an appointment with him. In Ed's hurry to trace the call the connection was lost.

TURNERS THROW OUT SOCIALIST I. & R. BOOSTER

George Koop of 4023 North Leamington avenue, who has been arrested a number of times for his activities as a radical and who has run for various offices in Chicago on the Socialist Democratic ticket, was ejected from the North Side Turner hall at 820 North Clark street yesterday when he attempted to interrupt the opening concert of the North Side Turners' musical program, urging voters to support the bond issues at tomorrow's election, when Koop jumped from his seat near the rear of the hall and launched into a defense of the I. and R. Ushers suggested that, as long as he was not on the program, he "hire a hall" but he refused to stop and struggled fiercely as he was pushed bodily from the Auditorium.

Henry G. Zander had just finished a short talk during an intermission in the musical program, urging voters to support the bond issues at tomorrow's election, when Koop jumped from his seat near the rear of the hall and launched into a defense of the I. and R. Ushers suggested that, as long as he was not on the program, he "hire a hall" but he refused to stop and struggled fiercely as he was pushed bodily from the Auditorium.

A Kangaroo Shoe For You!

KANGAROO is the ideal shoe for City Wear, combining the Comfort of Kidskin with the Service of Calfskin. Being rare and correspondingly expensive, Kangaroo is not found in ordinary shoes.

Edwin Clapp Shoes are preferred by those who consider the comfort and cost per year more important than the price per pair.

We specialize in the finest quality Australian Kangaroo for City Wear, but we carry a complete variety of styles in other leathers for every occasion.

EDWIN CLAPP SHOES FOR WOMEN are now on display at our Chicago stores.

Nikko Shop "Opening"

Thruout a successful year The Nikko Shop has established itself high in the favor of a discerning coterie. The week beginning Monday, November 3d, will mark the beginning of a season to be rendered still more interesting with larger displays of the curiously artistic products of Japan—particularly kimonos, robes, jackets, lingerie and boudoir slippers

Entirely new are the picturesque "Cherry Blossom" kimono—the sort worn in the Cherry Blossom dance; but one of a kind, since for that occasion no two kimonos are alike. Beautifully made and beautifully colored. $50 to $95.

Kimonos in Japanese fashion, interpreted with American taste; in simple or elaborate hand embroidered designs and artistic colorings: $45 to $95.

Kimonos and quilted robes—opening week attractions

Japanese silk kimonos, 14.75
Of habutai silk, hand embroidered in floral patterns; attractive shades.

Japanese silk kimonos, $25
These are of Kobe crepe and in Japanese fashion; hand embroidered.

Japanese quilted robes, extra, 11.75

Of habutai silk; made with kimono sleeves, hand quilted and handsomely hand embroidered. Other robes of satin with French set-in sleeves; hand quilted and hand embroidered; at $15.

Japanese boudoir slippers of satin, hand embroidered, 2.50.
Quilted vests of satin; sleeveless, 1.95. With sleeves, 3.95.

Silk lingerie made in Japan to satisfy American taste

Japanese night dresses of habutai silk, hand embroidered, at 7.95.

Japanese night dresses of habutai silk, hand emb'd in pastel tints, 11.75.

Japanese 2-pc. pajamas, $15

Of habutai silk with satin border; hand embroidered.

Japanese silk bloomers, 6.95

Made of heavy habutai silk, with elastic at knee, and hand emb'd.

Japanese silk lingerie sets, 22.50

Habutai silk night dress and envelope chemise; hand embroidered in pastel colorings to match.

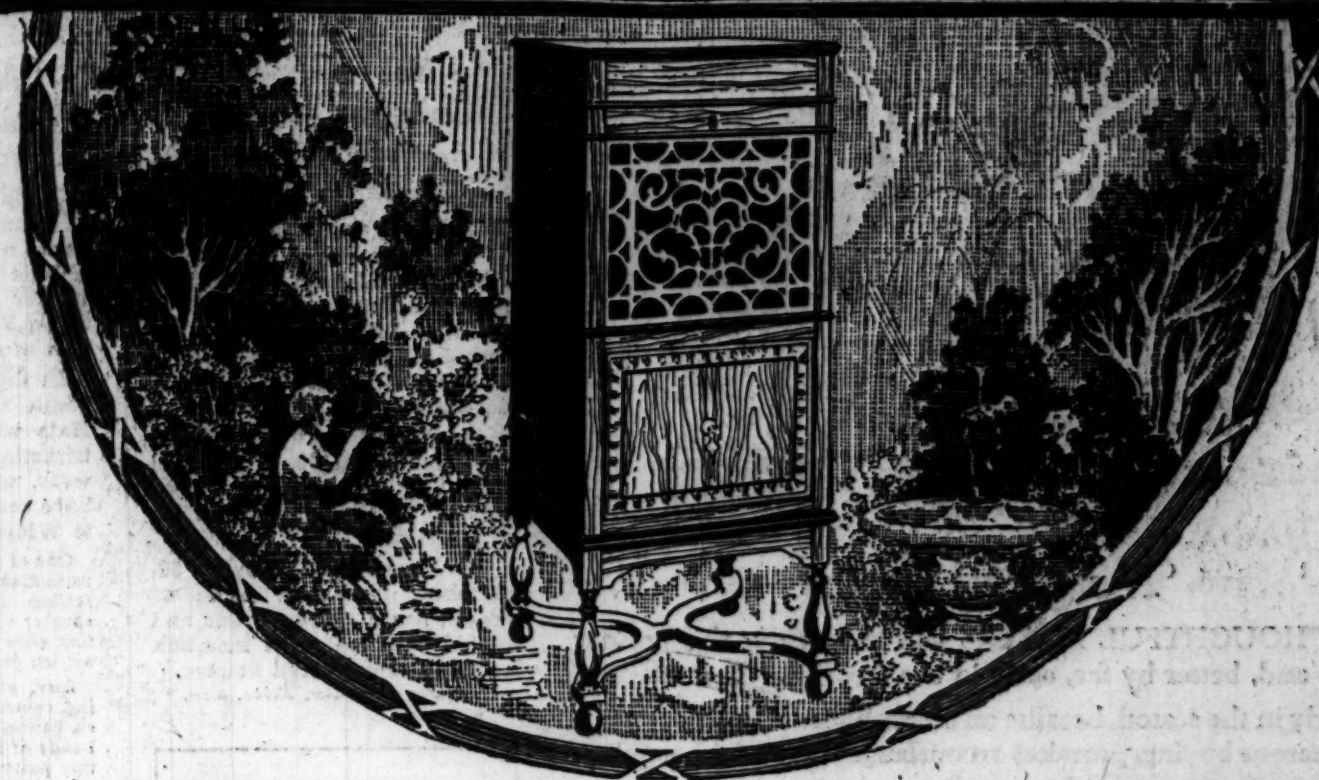

Nikko Shop, third floor

Many "opening" specials are particularly desirable for holiday gifts.

Miniature figures show the Japanese costumes as worn by natives.

The NEW EDISON

No needles to change. Even records of all other makes sound more human when played on The New Edison.

Re-Created Music Is Music Plus Personality

THE music of a great artist thrills and stirs us, where the same music rendered by another may leave us utterly cold—

Because—

Into his music the true artist has woven his whole soul—has made his music the expression of his Personality—made it a living thing.

And right there is the distinction between the New Edison and all other phonographs.

The genius of Thomas A. Edison has caught the music plus the Personality of the artist. It is wonderful. It is true music Re-Creation.

Close your eyes when listening to the New Edison and it is the living artist you hear. The artist himself speaking through music.

Music plus personality! Such music The New Edison and only The New Edison gives you.

Without Personality music is mere sound. With it, music is something vital that strikes at one's very depths, summoning memories, hopes long buried, and tender feelings. That is what music with Personality means, and that is the music the New Edison gives you.

If you delight in beautiful furniture, then by all means see the charming exhibit of New Edison Period Cabinets. It includes Sheraton, Jacobean, Chippendale, William and Mary and Eighteenth Century English Cabinets illustrative of the very finest examples of the craftsmanship of these golden ages of furniture designing.

Miss Elsie De Wolfe, America's foremost interior decorator, after examining this new line of Edison Period Cabinets volunteered this unqualified endorsement of them:

"The Period Cabinets which Mr. Edison has adopted are in pleasant contrast to the rather grotesque cases one so frequently sees. From the characteristically diminutive and graceful Heppelwhite to the costly replicas of historical pieces, the superior furniture value of the Edison cabinets can scarcely fail to impress the lover of good furniture."

So come in today. See these beautiful new cabinets. Hear the marvelous music Re-Creations of the New Edison. Both will delight you. Come—today.

Many women now at home can earn extra Christmas money here as saleswomen. Full or part time. Apply Superintendents' Office, Ninth Floor.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

Thoughtful Buyers

THOUGHTFUL BUYERS will shop early this season; and, better by far, early in the day.

Early in the season, because an old-fashioned Christmas, with generous buying, promises an onslaught on limited supplies.

Avoid congestion; try to make way for those who have no other choice.

Gifts to Go in a Letter

HAVE you ever thought of how many pretty and attractive little things there are that can be sent in your Christmas letter? Here are just some of them to be found around the Store:

Needle Cases, made of two small discs of sweet grass with bits of flannel between, lend a delicate fragrance to the work basket, and are just big enough to slip in an envelope. 20c.

Fancy Goods, Third Floor.

Lingerie Roses, two on a card, each mounted on a little pin, are made of delicately colored ribbon. They add a dainty touch to pretty underthings. The card, 50c.

Fancy Goods, Third Floor.

French Lace Dollies, from Nor mandy, are dainty and exquisite. They come square, round, oval and oblong, six and eight inches wide. One of these for a plate or tray dolly would bespeak the taste and individuality of the sender. $1.75 up.

Fancy Goods Section, Third Floor.

Lingerie Claps, two on a card, of white and colored enamel with tiny flowers, will prove a useful as well as charming gift. A pair, $1.75.

First Floor, Wabash.

A Handkerchief, very pretty and very new, has just come from France. It is made of fine white linen and in the corner there is the dearest, quaintest little historical figure, hand-embroidered in color. The narrow, rolled edge is also colored. No one can have too many Handkerchiefs. $2.50.

Fifth Floor, State.

A New Christmas Candle!

IMAGINE it—a cheery red candle atop a bristly pine cone, the whole mounted on a little circular mat of wicker.

It is an origination of our own studios in the Fancy Goods Section—its piny needles cleverly simulating the forest ones, but of more permanent substance. A green-gold wash gives a charming "glitter" to it all.

Fancy Goods Section, Third Floor, State.

Personal Greeting Cards for Christmas

THIS very day is none too early to place your order if you have not already done so. Indications point to our reaching the limit of our capacity earlier than usual this year, and the rare charm of the Cards is more than ever evident.

Net Guimpes Specially Priced

Another of the same model, at $2, is trimmed with very nice quality Valenciennes pattern lace and strips of insertion.

The low-necked Guimpe at $2, sketched, comes in white or cream, has a narrow collar and vest, lace-edged, with insertion and tiny embroidered flowers.

Neckwear, First Floor, Middle, State.

Winter Hats Anticipate a Brilliant Social Season

SO many rich fabrics, and so many sumptuous furs have been used in the fashioning of this season's Hats that the Winter Millinery display in the Salon Francais presents an aspect of surpassing elegance.

In the Salon des Debutantes, youth finds its expression in Hats with lace brims and fur trimming for dance or dress wear, while gay-colored velvets have been used to add their note to Winter's sombre background.

One of the Hats pictured, of Chinese vermilion brocade, forms a brilliant setting for the crownless tam-o-shanter of moleskins laid over it. A tiny visor of brocade and a tassel of ostrich perfect its artful contour.

Airy, graceful, altogether bewitching, comes a Dance Hat of seal-colored panne velvet, its crown with small bands of fur, its broad brim of Chantilly pattern lace.

Fifth Floor, North, State.

Black Duchesse Mousseline Special $3.75 Yard

THIS exceptional quality is a soft, lustrous, pure-dyed Satin Duchesse Mousseline, especially adapted for draping or combining with any of the rich metal brocades which are ready here for this purpose.

It is 36 inches wide.

Welcome News! Savings on Blankets and Comforters

REALLY cold weather is certain to be with us soon, and Blankets and Comforters will be in demand.

These are good values—each means a substantial saving. Anticipation of Christmas gift needs is worth while.

Plaid Blankets—wool and cotton, about 65 per cent wool. These are size 66x80, with whipped edges in pink, blue, tan or gray, a pair, $12.75.

White Blankets—cotton and wool, with pink or blue stripes and three-inch binding to match, size 76x84, a pair, $14.85.

Comforters—down filled, regular size, 72x84, made in our own sanitary workrooms, covered with fine French cambric, and filled with a very good quality of goose down. These come in yellow or green, with satin borders to match, special, each, $17.85.

Sailed, Sample Blankets—Greatly reduced—a great variety, from $5 to $30 a pair.

Second Floor, North, State.

New Blouses

OF crepe Georgette and tricotette, they are embroidered in pretty contrasting colors of silk and wool. Often they are worn with a skirt of the same color, by which the effect of a smart one-piece costume is gained.

One of the newest models, here sketched, is the tricotette Hip-blouse, handsomely wool embroidered, $22.50.

The other Blouse is of crepe Georgette, with lighter brown, tan and blue silk embroidery. Tiny blue buttons give an added touch of color. $12.75.

Eighth Floor, Middle, State.

Exquisite "Blue Rose" Toilet Preparations

IMAGINE the sweet odors of an old rose garden and you will have some little idea of the haunting sweetness of the perfume which scents "Blue Rose" Preparations. They are made in our own laboratory—of an assured purity.

"Blue Rose"

Talcum—50c. Face Powder—$1.75.

Perfume, 1-oz. cut glass bottle, $3; 2-oz. cut glass bottle, $5.75.

Showing How Electricity Helps in the Home

During This Week—An Exhibition Aisle of Household Utilities Demonstrations

THE best appliances that women have found to help them in the difficult home tasks are being demonstrated in the Household Utilities Section this week. Washing and Ironing Machines in use, Vacuum Cleaners put to severe tests, Electric Ovens in operation.

This is an Exhibition to show modern homeworers that there is nothing mysterious nor difficult about electrical assistance in the home—to acquaint them with the easy processes that have been devised to free women from drudgery.

The Sale of Decorative Household Linens Is Now in Full Force —Bringing Rare Values and a High Standard of Service

HERETOFORE the Decorative Household Linens have been a part of the great January Linen Sale.

But—Realizing that November is the month in which the demand for this class of Linens is at its height, on account of its great popularity for Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts, and desiring to render the highest standard of service, we have advanced this division of our regular January Linen Sale to November.

By this our customers may have the benefit of the savings of Sale prices at the time when they are most welcome.

All the Beautiful Decorative Household Linens—Madeira, Italian Embroidery and Fillet, Mosaic and Porto Rican—Are Included

Centerpieces, Dollies, Scarfs, Luncheon Sets, Fancy Napkins, Luncheon Cloths, Banquet Cloths, and Lace and Embroidered Bedspreads are affected by the reduction.

Preparations for this Sale were made exactly one year ago, and personally selected Linen from Italy, Porto Rico, and the Orient are included. The general scarcity of such merchandise, and the increased prices on re-orders, make early purchases of quantities well worth while. Below are mentioned just a few of the attractive groups.

Fillet Lace and Embroidered Linens

Linen Scarfs—with Italian Fillet lace edges, special.

20x36, $16.50 20x45, $20. 20x54, $22.50

Night Table Covers, square, 18x18 and 20x20, trimmed with hand embroidery and Fillet lace, special, each, $12 and up.

Table Cloths, handsomely hand embroidered and trimmed with Fillet lace, 2 yards round, $67.50 and up.

Bedspreads, for single beds, with Fillet lace and embroidery, each, $87.50; double-bed size in proportion.

Fine Linens, since time immemorial, have been the delight of every woman's heart.

Madeira Linens Embroidered Mosaic Linens

Centerpieces—36 inches, various designs, special, $15 to $37.50.

Scarfs of dressing table, chest and dresser sizes, special.

20x36—$16 to $37. 20x45—$18.50 to $35. 20x54, each, $21 to $62.

Round Tea Cloths, 54 inches, special, $45 to $72.

Dinner Cloths, round, 72-inch size, each, $57 to $120.

There are many other varieties, and many other sizes and prices in each of these divisions. This occasion, because of the remarkably large selection and unusually good values, will offer valuable suggestions for Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts as well as for the linen chest of the bride-to-be.

On Secret Service —in Mexico

BY DR. PAUL BERNARDO ALTENDORF.

(Late agent A-1 in the Military Intelligence Department of the U. S. Army.)

FLYING FROM YUCATAN.
America and her allies had permitted their steamships to take me away from Yucatan, where I was practicing medicine when the war broke out. I might now be filling an unimportant soldier's grave somewhere in Europe without having accomplished anything worth mentioning for the cause of civilization. But because I happened to have been born in that little Poland which Austria claimed as her share of the loot they said I was an "enemy alien"; and, hence, I was not allowed on board. Fancy being an "enemy" of the country I was fighting Germany!

Not having a chance to carry a gun, I determined to do my bit as a volunteer secret service agent operating in Mexico, which the Germans, with the enthusiastic cooperation of Carranza, were busily converting into a dependency of the fatherland, a general headquarters for Kultur in the western hemisphere, whence the two Americas could be conquered.

As a volunteer I should not only incur all the risks that other secret service agents run, but I should also have to pay my own way. So before starting I dedicated my life and all that I had, consisting of $5,000 American money, the only real money recognized in Mexico, and personal belongings worth $2,000, to the cause of liberty and civilization. I emigrated with my life, but spent every penny.

Things Uncovered.
On the other hand, being my own boss, even after being sworn in, I got on fine with my commander. Also, I received good value for my $5,000, as well as, perhaps, agreeable to the following partial list of things done:

German-Mexican scheme for the invasion of the United States. To be prevented by a Negro insurrection and massacre of the white population of the south, broken up by causing the Negro leader to be suspected as an American agent and driven from Mexico.

Strayed the second leader, the most dangerous German agent in America, into the hands of the United States military intelligence department. He was court martialed and sentenced to death, but the sentence in the United States was commuted to life imprisonment.

Reported fifty-six other German agents, causing some of them to be arrested, spoiling the usefulness of others, and hampering the rest. Checked the first ambitious German scheme for the economic conquest of Mexico.

Wanted in Carranza's scheme to evacuate a Mexican gunboat wrecked and sold to a private Mexican citizen and raised it and turned it over to the Germans for a submarine tender, and used it to be sold to an American ship, and did it so neatly that the Germans and Mexicans never knew it was done.

Wanted two "hitherto unknown" German wireless stations and two wireless stations on the border to interfere with the Germans receiving. Reported that German submarines were coming to raid the American coast more than a month before they were known to be coming.

Had sole charge of German secret wireless headquarters in Mexico for eight days. Won the confidence of the German ambassador to Mexico, of the head of the German secret service, of several German consuls of Carranza, and of the governors of Sonora and Sinaloa, and verified from the mouths of each their connection with the German-Mexican scheme for the invasion of the United States.

Broke up a German scheme to corner dynamite and keep them out of Mexico. Raised Cain with smugglers supplying blacklisted German firms.

Engaged in fourteen fights. The foregoing are but high spots in a continuous series of adventures, including fourteen fights with bandits attacking trains. I disguised myself with white and red paint, slept only in the open with Mexicans and pigs, went 129 consecutive hours without sleep, without food, and outwitted both Mexicans and Americans and escaped Mexico with a price of $10,000 on my head, dead or alive, after being deliberately betrayed by an American secret service officer.

Reportations are not bestowed in the American service. It is my chosen field of operations. All I have to show for twenty months of hardships and peril is a few letters, or which the following is a sample:

WAR DEPARTMENT.
Headquarters Southern Department,
Office of Department Intelligence Officer.
Fort Sam Houston, Texas.
March 24, 1919.
To Whom It May Concern:
With great regret that we part with the services of the bearer, Dr. Paul Bernardo Altendorf, who has, for more than eighteen months, been connected with the intelligence service of the Southern Department, where he has been most excellent service and been instrumental in the conviction of one of the cleverest spies in the German Empire.

SHOT BY THIEVES WHILE WALKING FROM CHURCH

City, Attacked Near Home, Resists, and May Die.

While resisting several robbers William Ege, 50 years old, 1410 North St. Louis avenue, was shot three times and seriously wounded near his home late last night. Ege was taken to the Alexander brothers' hospital.

Ege, who was conscious when the police arrived, told them he was walking home on St. Louis avenue, between Pierce and Le Moyne avenues, when two men jumped from an automobile and shoved revolvers at him. He resisted and one of the men shot three times. He fell and the men jumped back into the car, which contained several other occupants, one of whom fired two more shots at him while he was lying on the sidewalk.

Three Shots Take Effect.
Three of the bullets took effect. One struck above the right eye and glanced off the skull, another creased the top of his head, and the other lodged in his right thigh.

Harry Newburger, 3503 Le Moyne avenue, heard the shots and rushed out of his house. He carried Ege to the saloon of Charles Thiele, 3501 West North avenue, from where he called the Austin police. Newburger, who is a friend of the family, went to Ege's home after seeing his friend to the hospital, where the latter lapsed into unconsciousness.

Mrs. Ege told Newburger her husband and the family had been to church and that while she and the others decided to take a car, her husband said he would walk.

The police believe the car used by the bandits was a stolen machine. It was a black Cadillac with white trimmings.

Captured Jug of Wine.
Three weeks ago a confessed burglar told the police of being told by a pal in Pontiac reformatory that more than $100,000 worth of diamonds were kept in a safe at the Metropolitan Loan bank at 426 South Halsted street.

Last night a message to the Des Plaines street station told of an attempt to break into the place. A squad of detectives under Lieut. William H. Shoemaker found the burglars had fled after hurrying a brick through a rear window.

"Can't go back empty handed," muttered the lieutenant. He saw a man staggering down the alley with a jug in his hand.

The man, August Attkirk, 37 years old, 314 West Congress street, was taken back to the station and booked on a charge of disorderly conduct. The jug was full of wine.

Many Crimes Reported.
There were numerous holdups and burglaries Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Edward Bell was robbed of $45; J. Becker of 1026 South Ashland avenue of $30; D. Maszkowski of 1762 Julian street of $42; A. King of 544 West Thirty-second street of $13.

Three armed robbers entered the drug store of Alex Lesoff at 558 East Forty-fifth street, with drawn revolvers and took $124 from the cash register while the druggist was forced to face the wall. As soon as the bandits left the store Lesoff seized his revolver and hurried after the intruders, firing five shots at them. They returned the fire, climbed into a large touring car, and sped away. Lesoff is under the impression that he hit one of the men.

A few hours after burglars had taken clothing, valued at $2,019 from the cleaning and dyeing establishment of Harry Lutz at 2345 North Western avenue, police found the robbers in an alley near Robey street and Park avenue. The thieves fled in an automobile as the police opened fire, but they left a large part of the loot behind them in a shed back of 1935 Park avenue.

MAN KILLED, HIS WIFE MAY DIE, IN AUTO CRASH

Two Women, Boy, and Three Policemen Injured.

John Hegstrom, 6937 South State street, was killed, and his wife, Hulda, probably fatally injured when their auto struck an upright when they were driving under the railway tracks at Seventy-second street and Lowe avenue about midnight. Mrs. Hegstrom is at St. Bernard's hospital.

They were in the car owned and driven by Adolph Carlson, 7841 St. Lawrence avenue, who was not hurt.

Two Women and Boy Hurt.
Mrs. Lina Phillips, 3725 North Marshfield avenue, her son Edward, 12 years old, and Mrs. Mary Meyer, also of 3725 North Marshfield avenue, were seriously injured yesterday afternoon in an automobile accident at Hermitage and Lawrence avenues. They are at the Ravenswood hospital. The boy is suffering from a fractured right leg.

Mrs. Phillips' husband was driving. In an effort to avoid hitting another machine, it is said, he swerved the car sharply and it overturned. The other automobile stopped, and then went on, the police say. Phillips was uninjured.

Three Policemen Hurt.
Three policemen going to their posts in the South Chicago steel strike district were badly injured when their auto turned over near the Ninety-fifth street bridge. They are Charles E. Baker, 1235 West Seventy-fifth street; Wilfred Derolow, 966 East Sixty-second place, and John J. Leman, 9843 Winston avenue. They were taken to their homes.

ELK CARD CLEW THAT LEADS TO MAN'S ARREST

The Great Northern hotel complained of him—called him a "lounge lizard"—and Detectives Burns and Booth of Central took him in tow. He gave the name of E. F. Coyne, had a Moose card made out to E. F. Coyne, an Elk card with the name of Emil Siner, Flint, Mich., on it, and other data to show he was John E. O'Neill.

He had a deputy's star issued by the Bethlehem Steel company, a number of pawn tickets that called for clothing, and a few other articles that increased suspicion. The detectives wired Flint and learned the home of Emil Siner had been looted, and that among the things stolen was an Elk's card and two suits of clothes.

The records showed that a John E. O'Neill served six months in the bridge well five years ago and that he was several times arrested as a con man.

So Coyne, or O'Neill, or whatever his name is, is being held.

STEAL CAR, MAKE PAIR WALK HOME

Seventy-fifth street and Central Park avenue sound rather "cityfied," but Herman Van Velzer of Delavan, Wis., a former student at the University of Chicago, will say that this corner is further removed from city conveniences than he cares to walk.

Van Velzer came to Chicago on Saturday to visit a young woman whose name he refused to give the police. He registered at the Windemere hotel and yesterday borrowed the automobile of former Judge George A. Trude, a resident of that hotel, to take the young woman for an Indian summer motor trip.

He had reached the point in Clearing described in the opening sentence of this story when four men stopped up with revolvers, took the automobile and $24, and honked cityward, after leaving him and the young woman in the road with car fare.

"But," Mr. Van Velzer explained wearily to the police, "car fare at Seventy-fifth street and Central Park avenue does a man about as much good as a railroad pass in the Sahara desert. We walked plenty."

BOMB HURLED; UPHOLSTERERS' STRIKE BLAMED

A bomb, believed to have been thrown by a person in sympathy with the striking upholsterers, blew in a side door of the H. Z. Mallen Furniture company's factory, 346 St. John's court, last night and broke windows in the building and in a number of residences in the neighborhood. No one was hurt.

Frank Resczynski, 1433 Dickson street, watchman, was in the plant at the time. He could not give any clue to the bombers.

Play Instead of Sermon to Boom Church Campaign

Bishop Charles P. Anderson of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago asks all the Sunday school workers to meet tonight at local headquarters of the church's nation-wide campaign, 666 Rush street, to receive instructions on the simultaneous production in every church here of a pageant or mystery play, designed to show the motive of the campaign. The play is to be presented in place of the morning service on Sunday, Nov. 30, in every Episcopal church throughout the land.

'DEAN' WHO AWED EVANSTON CHIEF LANDS ANOTHER

If Chief Charles Leggett of Evanston had consulted Elmer J. Schnackenberg of 2206 Commercial avenue, South Chicago, he would not have released "W. H. Terry" last Thursday night. Neither would he have apologized.

"Terry" had been taken into custody in the store of A. W. Smith, 1561 Sherman avenue, Evanston, after attempting to exchange a hard luck story for a legal tender. He said he was 75 years old and had served, until five years ago, as dean of the school of agriculture of the University of Minnesota. He was on his way to Benton Harbor to visit a sick son, had been robbed of all his money, $165, in Milwaukee, and had walked all the way to Evanston, he declared.

"Professor Terry" evidently is quite a walker," said Attorney Schnackenberg yesterday. "He honored me with a call in South Chicago Thursday and told me he had lost $185 somewhere. He was awaiting Loney from his wealthy son in Iowa. I fell for the price of a night's lodging. If the professor was bound for Benton Harbor he must have slipped a cog on his touching journey."

HUSBAND SHOT AS HE WAITS ON STREET FOR WIFE

While Mrs. Mary Putis stepped into a store near Thirty-third and Canal streets late Saturday night, her husband, Michael, 3486 South Union avenue, waited for her near an alley.

She heard a revolver shot and, running out, saw her husband lying on the street. He was wounded and unconscious. The Stockyards police took Putis to the County hospital, where it is said his condition is not serious.

Putis told the police that he saw no man fire, but heard a shot and fell.

HEROIC FLAGMAN'S WIFE IS MURDERED OF HER LAST $15

MRS. JOHN MILLER, 530 Oakdale avenue, Glenview, wife of the flagman who still is in the Evanston hospital recovering from injuries he received last September in an attempt to save the lives of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Tanner of Hubbard Woods, appealed to the Evanston police yesterday to search for a man who, she charges, swindled her out of the last $15 she had in the house.

Richard Cuthbert, who says he figured in a number of thrilling battleships rescues in France as a member of base hospital unit No. 14, is the person for whom the police are looking. He was a temporary orderly at the hospital.

On Saturday, Mrs. Miller says, Cuthbert came to her home and said he had been seized by a Mrs. Milles, chairman of the hospital board.

"I'm not very busy at the hospital," so Mrs. Milles suggested I make some needed repairs on your house," he explained.

After making measurements of doors, windows, and porches, Cuthbert went away, saying he was going for lumber. He returned later, and the lumber yard had refused to let him have material on credit, and asked for $25. Mrs. Miller gave him the $15. He failed to return.

Cuthbert had told acquaintances he was "going to work as butler for one of the most exclusive families on Lake Shore drive."

Mineral Water Business Suffers by Prohibition

The brewers and distillers are not the only ones who have been hard hit by prohibition. The mineral water people are facing oblivion as the result of the passing of the highball. Members of the National Mineral Water and Beverage association arrived in Chicago yesterday to rally their forces at the beverage show.

INDICTMENT OF JUNKIN PLANNED IN LIQUOR CASE

U. S. District Attorney
Clyne Says Action Is Likely.

United States District Attorney Charles F. Clyne announced last night that warrants undoubtedly will be issued as a result of the finding of ten gallons of whisky concealed in automobiles, consigned to Francis T. A. Junkin, Chicago and Washington club member and lieutenant colonel attached to the contract adjustment board in Washington, D. C.

That an indictment probably will be asked under the Reed amendment, which prohibits the shipment of liquor into a dry state, was the prediction of an attaché of Mr. Clyne's office.

"This is a fresh case, and no arrests have been made yet," said Mr. Clyne when asked if an indictment would follow. "We have heard nothing new from Washington yet. Warrants undoubtedly will be issued, as in every similar case. It is our policy to prosecute every violation, no matter what the investigation hits."

When asked if the warrants would be issued here or in Washington, Mr. Clyne said they would be obtained here. In view of the fact that the seizure was made here and the evidence is being held in Chicago.

Principals Can't Be Found.
An element of mystery was injected into the investigation last night when Junkin, Ross Butler, his colored chauffeur, and federal investigators assigned in Washington on Saturday to inspect Butler's baggage all appeared to have vanished. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE were unable to locate the Junkins in Washington. As they left Chicago on Friday on the Broadway limited it was thought they might have stopped off in New York, but a canvass of the principal hotels in that city failed to disclose their names on the registers.

But the most peculiar phase of the affair was the failure of Frank Burke of the United States department of investigation in Washington to hear from the agents he dispatched on Saturday to intercept Butler and his wife and an excessive amount of baggage they carried when they left Chicago on a Baltimore and Ohio train at 5:45 p. m. on Friday. The agents were to board the train at Harper's Ferry and meet it in Washington.

Burke Wires for Reports.
Burke, worried over his failure to hear from his men last night, immediately sent telegrams to them ordering them to make a report on the case at once. He said he expected this to be in his hands this morning. He pointed to the possibility that his men, had they made any arrests, might have taken their prisoners and evidence direct to Baltimore, but, even in that case, he said, he should have received some word.

The ten gallons were securely looked up in the office of United States Marshal Bradley last night in the expectation that they would be used as evidence.

Found in Freight Car.
A squad of deputy marshals under the leadership of Tom Henneberry found some freight cars in the vicinity of Twenty-first and Purple streets on Saturday. They were out on a hot tip that a large quantity of bourbon, Scotch, and brandy had been shipped contrary to the laws of the nation.

They needed into a car which contained, on the surface, only two large automobiles. The shipping tag showed they were consigned to Francis T. A. Junkin, in Washington.

The deputy marshals were about to leave the car when Henneberry spied a pair of brass studded boots. "Music Box" and No. 2 Victrola," said the label.

The lids were pried off and the bottles of real old mellow stuff came to light. It was carried to the federal building and the authorities in Washington were notified.

DRIVES CAR INTO A STORE AFTER SMASHING CAB

John Erickson, a friend of the son of George F. Davis, 5907 Sheridan road, steel manufacturer of South Chicago, was driving the Davis car home early this morning after the younger Davis and he had been out riding. At Lawrence and Broadway he struck a yellow taxicab, which was demolished. The Davis car kept on going until it had smashed through a fifteen foot plate glass window in the rear store of Jake Kartasos, and crumpled up on the corner.

Nobody was even scratched.

Fracture of Skull Is Blamed on Wood Alcohol

Stupefied by the effects of wood alcohol, supposedly taken as a beverage, Daniel Culey, 31 years old, whose address could not be learned, fell from the step of a moving Western avenue car near Grand avenue and Lincoln street yesterday and suffered a fractured skull. Culey was taken to the county hospital.

SAVAGE TACKLES CUTLER TONIGHT IN MAT FEATURE

Steve Savage, who won over William Demetral last week, will meet Charley Cutler in the main bout of the wrestling show to be staged by the Coliseum A. C. tonight at Aryan Grotto, Eighth street and Wabash avenue.

Although Cutler will have a decided advantage in weight, Savage believes his speed and endurance will be too much for the veteran. It will be the first meeting of the pair and an interesting contest is expected.

Johnny Meyers, middleweight champion, will take holds with Joe Schutte, a South Bend grappler, in the semi-final bout. And Charley Peterson will meet Matty Matsuda, a middleweight, in the opening one fall contest. The first bout will start at 8:30 o'clock, and popular prices will prevail.

IT'S MOVIES, NOT HOME RUNS, NOW WITH BABE RUTH

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Babe Ruth, world's champion slugger, has arrived here accompanied by Mrs. Ruth and has taken up residence in the "Capital" of filmdom. Their arrival created no little stir in film-land. Ruth has signed a contract with the movie magnates which is understood to call for $10,000 for about four months during the winter. His first scenario is finished and has met with his approval. It provides for a minor part for Mrs. Ruth, the giant having expressed the desire to have her appear with him.

Ruth says he returned his contract to owner Harry Frazee of the Red Sox before he left Boston with the request that it be nullified and another made giving him more money. Ruth says he will stay in the movies indefinitely and play ball between times until Frazee "comes through."

ARROWS CAPTURE FINAL BATTLE IN SWEITZER SERIES

Cup Event Decided When Cicero Is Trimmed by 12 to 3.

Mossy Joy's Stewart Arrows won the third game and the Sweitzer cup by defeating Gus Lauterbach's Ciceros, 12 to 3, at Cicero yesterday. It was the final game of the local baseball season and over 5,000 fans attended. It was necessary to call the game after the seventh inning on account of darkness. Long Tom Hughes did the hustling for the winners. After the third inning he did not have to extend himself, for the Arrows hit Griesbaum hard and piled up a safe lead.

Two out when game was called.
Arrows 12, Ciceros 3.
Errors—Allen, Kafora, B. Sullivan, Connell, North, Zeeman, Holmes. Two base hits—Allen (2), Kulp, Kafora, Hughes, Ullman, Home run—J. Sullivan, Ullman, Baude, Remy on balls—Off Hughes, 1; off Griesbaum, 2. Struck out—By Hughes, 2; by Griesbaum, 2. Umpires—Pollard (chief), McDonald, Tipman.

First time prize went to Roy Mobek, crack amateur rider of the Norwegian-American A. A. Starting with the scratch riders, Mobek pedaled the distance, approximately 102 miles, in 6:02:15. Alex Peterson of the Franklin Skating and A. C., with an allowance of thirty minutes, captured second time prize, two seconds behind Mobek. Third time prize was won by Art Lauman of the Star Pointer C. C. of Milwaukee. He started from scratch and rode the distance in 6:02:15.

Thirty-five riders started, but only fourteen finished

Thirty-five riders started, but only fourteen finished. A majority found the roads too heavy and gave up at the half way mark. Others had tire trouble and having no spare tires were brought into Chicago by automobile.

Rough Going in Zion City

The riders encountered the worst roads in Zion City. At some places they had to dismount and carry their bikes over the bad spots. Carl Nielsen had a collision with an automobile at Jeffersonville and was thrown heavily. He resumed the race, however, and finished second.

After the ladies have seen Constance Talmadge as a goddess of the pencil and notebook much attention will be transferred from the home to the office. Mr. Brown's wife will evince sudden and tender interest in Mr. Brown's stenographer. For stenographers, it is plain to be seen from the picture, though pure as the driven snow, may still prove insidious poison to a susceptible business man.

O. well, why worry? There's only one Constance at large.
Mr. Conway Tarte of the corrugated brow and tender lips is Miss Talmadge's vis-a-vis this time. Mr. Tarte always makes me think of Peter, the pup, as he looks by and watches the family consume food of which he can have none.

Peter is only fed once a day, by veterinary regulation, but he is always hungry. Always hungry and always, always wistful. And so Mr. Tarte is most appealing to the feminine element. They hope against hope that, by hook or by crook, he gets what he wants somehow—anyhow.

In the present production he draws one kiss that is a vital! The kind of kiss that in the old Fannyhouser days would have sent the entire company board to the open, shrieking for air. There's been a penchant lately for kissing 'em on the neck—a new twist which has made the censors suspicious. Several times the kiss on the neck has been sternly ordered scissored. It looks all right, but if it isn't any fun

Never Again

"Mother and I had just moved to a new flat in a row where the entrances were all similar. The first evening when I came home I passed over the entrance without observing the number. Finding the outside door open I ran up to the second floor, tried my key, and could not unlock the door. Then I knocked and, hearing no response, shook the door violently. When a strange man in a dressing gown opened the door I apologized profusely. The next evening when I ran up the stairs, tried my key, and heard a man's heavy tread approaching I had sense enough to realize my mistake and made a dive for the outside door. Just then the man's voice called over the rail: "Who is it?" "Y-O-P!" I said. "I'll never do it again," and I never did."

N. J. F.

why do they do it? The Talmadge-Tarte couple, however, is the good old-fashioned kind and puts—well, I don't think it.

As is usual in pictures featuring Miss Talmadge, there is an alcoholic supporting cast, beautiful scenery, and able direction for a story that is smart and "different."
The heroine, forced by reverses of fortune brought about by the San Francisco fire to go to work, studies stenography. She is really a Miss Armitage of good, old family with a crest and everything. But for a reason explained in the film, in the business world she is known as Nellie Jones. And it is as Miss Jones that she proceeds on a career of innocent devastation and meets her fate.

You're bound to enjoy "The Virtuous Vamp" if your husband hasn't a blonde in his office whose name begins with "J."

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
VERA: NO, VERA, NO REDUCING instructions for you. I'd wager you have been stealer mother's powder and rouge and in your anxiety to follow in mother's footsteps you want to reduce. Vanity, vanity, thy name is Vera, this time aged 14! And want to be the slenderest girl in her class!

ROSE: NO, I DON'T BELIEVE in washing the face in milk and taking hot water internally as a remedy for acne. It requires a more strenuous treatment than that, especially after five years' standing. It must be realized that good blood depends upon the health of the digestive organs, hygienic living, and much fresh air. Soap and water cannot be improved upon for skin cleansing and it is important that the daily bath is a religious scruple with you. Eat sanely of fresh vegetables and fruit and bread instead of starchy foods and pastries and the like. Then use this

Home Laundry Problems

More mistresses and maids probably fall out over laundry problems than over any other item. Just the other day a mistress was in such a passion of haste to have a nice girl out of her house that she herself twisted and wadded that girl's clothes into a suitcase. The girl had been washing and ironing all day (and every day had to wash for a baby and prepare its milk) and had neglected a matter pertaining to the family dinner.

Moral: Let mistress and maid learn more about laundering. There are some most interesting books on the subject. Knowing how saves a world of time and lengthens greatly the life of the things washed.

That farmer's bulletin on the removal of stains is No. 851, and not No. 851, which was the number dictated to a group of women at a lecture and so printed and then corrected in this column. More people saw the mistake evidently and continue to write in asking how to get No. 851 than saw the correction. Write to the office of information, United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. for it.

This year there are not only to be purchased pretty envelopes of cards containing cooking recipes but those with cards telling how to remove stains—for Christmas, you know.

Several of the soap companies and the linen makers now put out excellent books on laundry problems.

"Fabrics have feelings." A young girl recently went to school and learned what feelings a pair of expensive silk stockings had. Result: She wore the stockings, which perfectly matched her shoes, every day for two months without a break or hole appearing in them.

acne cream: Lanolin's grains; sweet almond oil, 1 gram; precipitate of sulfur, 5 grams; oxide of zinc, 2½ grams; extract of violet, 10 drops. Massage the face morning and night with it after you have scrubbed the face with a pure soap, camel's hair brush, and hot water.

Bright Sayings of the Children

It was Elsie's first visit to the country. As she sat gazing out of the window a flock of blackbirds, frightened by the train, rose from the ground and flew away. "O, Aunt Emma," exclaimed the child, excitedly, "Look what a large family those country birds has got!"

Having had a severe illness I was looking thin and tired, but during my summer outing grew fat and rosy. On my return home I met a small girl friend of mine who looked at me in an admiring manner and then said: "My, but your face must have had a nice vacation."

George's little playmate was somewhat inclined to exaggerate whenever

A Friend in Need

I want to be the medium through which the friend in need and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be you have some discarded articles which you need not regret giving away. It may be you would gladly give it if you knew how to do so. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper. When information is wanted by mail a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

Doing Cabinet Work.
"Will you please make a request for old furniture, bedsteads, bureaus, chests, etc. The boys in our club want to do some cabinet work this winter. We have been able to get an expert cabinet man to direct them, but we have no lumber. Many of these boys will be able to stay in school another winter through the funds obtained from the sale of the finished articles. If it is impossible to send donations to our main club on the north side we will send and get them in any part of the city. We shall anxiously await replies to this request. The boys are eager to get to work." F. H. W.

Offers Morris Chair.
"I am anxious to get a book called 'The American Housewife.' Mine was destroyed in a fire. I would be most grateful if some one among your readers had one they would give me. I have a perfectly good Morris chair I will gladly give to any one who will call for it." Mrs. P. J.

Some one will want the Morris chair you so kindly offered, and I hope you will receive a book. It is probably out of print.

Used anything. His elders seemed amused at what they called his imaginings. Not so with George, who was a serious child for his age. "You can't depend on what Carl says," he commented; "he tells so many things that ain't."

Auditorium Filled to Welcome Fritz
Kreiser's Return

BY W. L. HUBBARD.

Fritz Kreiser need have no doubt as to where he stands in the affection of Chicago music patrons. Yesterday afternoon an audience, which filled every available seat in the Auditorium, utilized the orchestra pit to the limit of its capacity, and crowded the stage to its last place, welcomed him back to the local concert stage, received his every number with spontaneous and lavish approval, and at the close of the regular program remained for a full half hour applauding and listening to the many encores he generously accorded.

Enthusiasm of similar quality and abundance is not frequent in the American concert room, and the master violinist has every reason to feel that his enforced absence for over two years has cost him nothing in the hearts of his many admirers. There has been inclination in certain quarters to regret that Mr. Kreiser's return to the concert stage. But it was gratifying yesterday to note that no attempt was made to voice any such sentiment.

Without in any wise belittling or forgetting the national sentiments of those who have suffered loss in the war, and therefore possibly feel more keenly the difference between enemy and ally than others less closely affiliated may do, yet there seems to be no well founded reason for objecting to Mr. Kreiser and his return.

He comes back to us even a greater artist than he was. The sorrows he has experienced have deepened his spiritual grasp of music just as they have made heavier the lines in his face. There is a fuller sympathy, a greater sincerity and a truer understanding than before. The result is interpretation of the noblest, highest kind. He long has stood master supreme of all the technical resources of his art, his tone has long been exceptional in its purity, its warmth, its power and its mainly tenderness and the surety and ease of his work when judged from the mechanical standpoint have all combined to make him one of the greatest violinists of the present time.

All these virtuosic virtues were in full evidence every night yesterday afternoon, and yet they all were but means to the voicing of the messages of beauty, of joyousness, of sincere emotion, or grace and of classic repose and dignity which he through his performance delivered. The program might with pleasure be described in detail, but it would be only reflection of unqualified praise and satisfaction. Suffice it, therefore, that Fritz Kreiser, master violinist and master artist, gave of his best and without stint. The result was an afternoon of complete enjoyment.

Carl Lamson was at the piano and was a fitting comrade for Mr. Kreiser. In Orchestra hall the Sistine Quartet filled a return engagement, but was heard by a surprising small audience. The voices of the men impressed us as weary, and the singing lacked many of the excellent qualities which made the former concert so impressive and enjoyable.

FASHIONS
BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—We take our cue from the fashion of the day and the above is the result. The skirt which is, in effect, the trouser, is a feature of many of the new evening and afternoon gowns. Sometimes the skirt is even brocaded about the feet with rhinestones just exactly as the belle of Bagdad might do it. But this is not all. The French designer of evening gowns goes about his business with a cornucopia. He pours upon a single model every rich material he has at hand. Thus the above evening gown from Martini & Armand drapes black Chantilly band in milk over a foundation of gold brocade, and garnishes its bodice with both rhinestones and jet.

All bodies of present day evening frocks are impoverished and often depend upon shoulder straps or harness of rhinestones, jet, or beads, not only as support but as substance. The train draped to produce the fashionable fullness is a feature of this dress which is well worth attention.

FRUIT TREES

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

November usually is a good time for setting the hardy fruit trees. The fall of the year has passed the best time to set many of the hardy plants, shrubs, and trees in most of the middle west states. However, peaches and some of the less hardy varieties of trees will do best if planted in the spring. Nurserymen often guarantee their stock and replace it if it does not grow the first year, but it is to the advantage of the planter to set the trees as soon as possible after they arrive. When the stock is delivered the packages should be opened and the roots watered if dry. Where the planting is delayed for a few days the stock should be heeled in to prevent the roots from becoming injured from drying.

When the ground is ready for planting, the root system of the young trees should be pruned just before setting. Preserve the tap root and shorten the main lateral roots to about six inches in length, then cut off the small fibrous roots. If the latter roots are left on they will prevent the tree from coming in close contact with the larger roots. This is not advisable, of course, where the trees can be dug up and immediately set, but even then it is necessary to remove the tree with a ball of soil, so the fibrous roots will not be disturbed.

Long roots cannot be set conveniently without bending, unless the tree is dug deep enough to allow ample room. Where the main root is more than six or eight inches long it may be shortened. In setting trees, always avoid bending or twisting the roots. Ragged wounds on the end of any of the larger roots should be removed by cutting back to fresh, healthy tissue.

Immediately after the young tree has been set the top should be trimmed. Pruning reduces the evaporation surface while the new root growth is becoming established, and it also serves to start a proper branching system. The amount of pruning differs with the kind of tree. Peach trees should be pruned severely, while trees like the sour cherry should be pruned the least.

Filmy Scarfs

Asparkle With Sequins

Accessories as significant as the mode itself are these scarfs. In them is reflected the splendor that marks the social season of this new winter.

As never before, perhaps, these scarfs vary their motifs to complement the costume they are to accompany.

And so here one may choose scarfs from the elusive silken nets for the delectable frocks of youth to those of exquisite Spanish laces threaded with silver for the stately evening gowns of velvets and satins.

At $8.95 to $52.50

First Floor, North.

Wool Hosiery

Women's and Men's

In heather mixtures, wool hosiery is very smart.

It is soft and warm and durable as well.

Women's wool hosiery in plain and ribbed effects in brown, gold color, green, red and gray heather mixtures, $2.50 and $3.50 pair.

Men's wool hosiery in brown, green and gray heather mixtures, in plain or ribbed effects, $1, $1.50, $2 and $2.50 pair.

First Floor, North and South.

Vision~

Vision is more than one of the five senses. It is man's sixth sense as well. For in its broader meaning it holds man's whole power of achievement.

The master-builder must see his bridge spanning some great gorge long before a single line is drawn upon the blue-print.

Vision prepares. Youth builds.

In this great business vision is the merchandise outrunner. Vision projects the resources of this store's organization throughout the world. There is no source of supply closed to it. There is no possible font of production uncultivated by it.

Vision sees demand even before demand becomes reality and what vision sees the resources of this store bring into being.

So this store is a constant source from which the demands of its patrons are continuously supplied in a way befitting their desires for things of the better kind.

The November Apron Sale

This Year Is Especially Important

With the launching of the brilliant social season this month, and its many attendant at home festivities, the hostess looks well to her service appointments. The correct in aprons is among these. And this sale presents

The New and Convention-approved Aprons for Luncheon and Dinner Service

Aprons for personal maids, aprons for morning wear, as well as aprons of the commercial type for hotel usages.

Note the Sale Prices: 50c to $16.50

Within this price range one may choose aprons of fine lawns excellently tailored, apron sets of dotted Swiss, of embroidered Swiss, of net and organdie. Especially featured are the aprons represented in the sketch—

At 75c, morning aprons of fine white lawn. At the right. At $1, luncheon aprons and the cuffs and collar set to match is 50c. Sketched at the left.

At $2.95, dinner service apron sets, very fine. At center.

Third Floor, North.

At This Time of the Apron Sale

Maids' Costumes Are Presented

Entirely new and in many instances wholly different costumes. These are of silks, black, navy blue, Copenhagen blue, wistaria and white, or of black and gray brilliantine.

Third Floor, North.

Exquisite Silk Undergarments

With Real Laces—Specially Priced, $8.95

For all their loveliness, which is certain to make an irresistible appeal, one is definitely aware of the practical features of these

Satin Envelope Chemises Especially Designed to Wear With the More Formal Apparel

The tops are cut square and the straps are of ribbons of the requisite width. These envelope chemises are generously full, yet soft and supple and absolutely correct in line.

Real filet laces are inset at the top and softly toned Valenciennes laces are often used. Daintily fine chiffon roses add their exquisite finishing touches.

Third Floor, North.

Never More Charming Petticoats

Than These for Dance Frocks, $8.95 to $29.75

The successful career of every lovely frock has its foundation in such petticoats as these.

They show such well-balanced proportion of the practical and frivolous, one senses immediately that appreciation of the character of such petticoats has inspired their designing.

Flounces carry the decorations of silken laces, paneled filet motifs, ribbon bow-knots, chiffon flowers and hand-work.

The petticoat sketched at the right is of soft satin with its pleated flounce of chiffon and lace. $12.75.

The petticoat sketched at the left has a flounce of pleated Georgette crepe with filet lace. $29.75.

Third Floor, North.

Babies' Winter Coats, $12.75

Values greatly to the advantage of those mothers of tiny folks whose coat needs are making urgent claim for consideration now.

For Not Yet This Season Have Better Values Been Noted at This Pricing

One little coat is of chinchilla cloth lined in red flannel. It's a cunning little ulster style, belted and with smart-looking deep pockets. $12.75.

The other coat is of a soft warm mixture in tones of brown or Burgundy, and it has a fluffy fur collar. Then there are coats of velours, broadcloths, Bolivia cloths up to $75.

Third Floor, North.

The Season's Favored in Silks and Velvets

This daylight silk section brings the most beautiful of the new silk weaves and rich velvets in wide assortments, in the colors desired for street, afternoon and evening wear.

Of New Silks—

Embroidered Georgette crepes in beautiful border effects, 40 inches wide, $6.50 and $7.50 yard.

Satin-striped moire in novelty color combinations, 36 inches wide, $3.50 yard.

Silk duvetyns in the desired colors for street wear and black, 36 to 42 inches wide, $12.50 to $16.50 yard.

Black crepe satin meteor, a rich, soft, light-weight dress fabric, $4.50 yard.

Of Velvets—

Black chiffon velvets, 41 inches wide, $10, $12 and $15 yard.

Velveteens in the 44-inch width and in a splendid range of colors and black, priced at $5 yard.

Second Floor, North.

Featuring—

Long French Kid Gloves

We were particularly fortunate in receiving from abroad assortments of long kid gloves so necessary to the mode this season.

Here are long gloves of fine French kid, in black and white, in the 8-button, the 12-button, the 16-button and the 20-button lengths. Priced as follows:

8-button length, $5.50 pair
12-button length, $6.50 pair
16-button length, $7.50 pair
20-button length, $8.50 pair

Etruscan Gold Cloth With Tulle Makes Fascinating Little Dance Hats

The gleam of the gold of this particular tone termed "Etruscan" through the dark-toned tulle is indescribably lovely.

Indeed, this combination accomplishes for these hats the usual distinctiveness one associates with French Room millinery modes.

The small piquant contours of these hats are unexpectedly irregular, an irregularity brought out charmingly by deftly posed decorations. At the same time will be introduced the new large black hats of the portrait type. All these are Presented in the French Room at $25 to $50.

Fifth Floor, South.

Tea at Three Until Five in the Tea Room

On many a woman's daily shopping calendar this little memorandum appears.

For the tea-room with its quiet atmosphere, its less service and the temperate cuisine, means a refreshing hour slipped into a day of activity.

This tea-room is also available for private luncheon at noon.

Eighth Floor, South.

The Formal Modes of the Winter Season

In Their Most Distinguished Interpretation

November fulfills the promise of fall. The gaiety and brilliancy foretold for the social season about to be launched is visioned in its every phase throughout extensive displays of new and charming modes expressly made for this occasion. So this becomes a fashion event of importance.

For this presentation gives to our patrons opportunity to achieve the truly individual in mode with that absolute success not often possible with apparel ready to wear.

These collections have been assembled from fashion sources of known authority with that unerring skill unfailing in its discrimination between the distinctively unusual and the bizarre.

Women's Dinner Frocks and Opera Gowns

For that woman whose personality is best reflected in soft-toned silken fabrics are gowns of taffetas in pastel shades. If color is more expressive, here are silk velvet gowns in flattering shades of sapphire, merle (a new shade of blue), jade and black. There are gowns rich with sequined nets in vivid tangerine shadings and asparkle with metal laces. Gowns of flame chiffons and gowns of orchid crepe. $80 to $500.

The evening gown sketched at the right makes its apron tunic of tulle, jetted and beaded and frilled, and poses this over jade satin. The slim long train—just a ribbon as to width—is entirely different. It first forms a girdle, then emerges as a train. $165.

Misses' Party and Dance Frocks

For a young girl's social occasions these assortments have provided with exquisite care. Here are radiant little frocks of silken nets threaded with gold. Quaint frocks almost Victorian as to bodice unexpectedly adding panniers. Frocks of brocaded silks uncommonly youthful. Frocks of velvets of unaffected simplicity. $37.50 to $225.

The flower-like grace of young girlhood endows the gleaming satin frock sketched at the left. Over each little puff is a garland of rosette-tinged chiffon roses, crystal bandings make the shoulder straps and the hem is caught under close. $125.

Women's Evening Wraps of Velvets and Fur

Fitting escorts to the evening frocks are these wraps rich in fabric and color-tone. Their beauty is accentuated by brilliant motifs embroidered and beaded, by the flash of sumptuous linings, by the deep fur collars and bandings. Many elegancies and graceful touches not usual in wraps are noted. At $150 to $500.

The silk velvet wrap, sketched at the left in the panel at the right, is in a warm taupe tone whose tints are reflected in the squirrel fur collar. An unusual feature is the puffed fullness at the back—a fullness that is held at the top by a shirred yoke and is caught in gracefully. Priced at $425.

Misses' Evening Wraps Rarely Lovely This Year

Color is their mode motif. Colors as radiant as youth itself, that gleam from silk velvets. Here is one wrap of vivid coral afutter with filaments of ostrich. Then another of jade with deep brown fur. Again one notes a wondrous wrap of imported metal brocades in brilliant tintings. $75 to $450.

The wrap sketched at the right in the panel at the right is of jade green chiffon velvet, looped here and there at the hem with large silken tassels. $325.

Apparel Modes Equally Distinguished and Charming Destined for Dinner and Afternoon Occasions Are Also Introduced at This Time.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

"Sappho" Corsets From France

With All Their Characteristic Finesse

In Chicago only at this store can women choose these corsets, and each announcement of their presentation tells of an occasion of real fashion importance.

Each little fashion detail is applied with that skilled art which is French. Each line is designed with full appreciation of the type of corset and the type of figure for which it is planned.

Those Corsets Whose Lines Conform to the Silhouette of This Season's Evening Modes

Are particularly featured. There is a litheness in each model, whether it be for the fuller figure or the slim and slender type. Fabrics are of rare fineness, but varied to the needs of the corset, from heavier batistes to those of soft silks. Prices are $20 to $37.50.

Third Floor, North.
